

Montana Floods Leave 30 Dead, $10 Million In Damages

WEST STATE OVERPASS TO OPEN FRIDAY

2,000 Persons Flee Homes In Great Falls

Several Counties
Declared Disaster
Areas by Johnson

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Flood waters chased at least 2,000 persons from their homes here Tuesday night after leaving 30 or more dead and hundreds homeless upstream.

Gov. Tim Babcock estimated damage from the flood, Montana's worst, at $10 million. President Johnson declared seven northwestern counties a disaster area.

In the northwest, hit first by the three-day flood, waters receded and rescue teams started mopping up.

The Sun River crested 11 feet over its flood stage of 12 feet at midnight in this city of 70,000. A spokesman for the Air Force and National Guard's rescue operations estimated 2,000 to 3,000 persons were evacuated from homes here and in the flooded areas to the west and north.

Take Shelter In School

Tom Sullivan, manager of a Red Cross shelter, said he had made records of about 1,300 persons evacuated from homes west of Great Falls and from an exclusive residential area surrounding a country club and golf course. The shelter is in West Side Junior High School, where more than 200 residents slept Tuesday night.

The 14th Street bridge in Great Falls held fast despite a heavy pounding by water, trees, parts of farm buildings and other debris.

A natural gas pipeline under the Sixth Street bridge burst with a shudder that was felt by onlookers.

Air Force teams said they rescued at least 200 persons from rural areas. The Air Force was using Malmstrom Air Force Base at Great Falls for a headquarters for 11 helicopters and other craft.

Pilots made 38 flights Tuesday and were prepared to take additional supplies to flood victims evacuated to other areas.

At least 400 were homeless in the northwest counties of Cascade, Chouteau, Flathead, Glacier, Pondera, Teton and Toole, those designated for federal disaster relief. Hardest hit was the Blackfoot Indian Reservation.

Highway 2 was opened to East Glacier, the eastern gateway to Glacier National Park, and U.S. 89 was opened for the first time since Monday, allowing rescue

Hanoverton Church Pastor Is Named

HANOVERTON — James C. George, 39, of New Castle, Pa., who graduated in May from Pittsburgh Seminary, has been assigned to the pastorate of the Hanoverton Presbyterian Church and will deliver his first sermon there July 5. He succeeds Rev. John Bort, who until February served the church for several years.

Mr. George will be ordained July 12 in his home church, Second United Presbyterian at New Castle, and formally installed as pastor of the local church July 26.

Married and the father of two sons and two daughters, Mr. George was student pastor of the Mountville Presbyterian Church near New Castle while studying for the ministry, and was formerly in business and industry.

Walter Blythe is chairman of the pulpit committee, and Paul Palmer, session clerk. Church officials are seeking a temporary residence for the family until the parsonage is remodeled.

Four Teachers Also Quit

Scott, W. Branch Principal, Resigns

The resignations of high school principal Ramon Scott and four teachers were accepted by the West Branch School District Board of Education and 11 teachers, including four from the Salem district, were employed at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

Scott, who has been in the school system for eight years and principal the past three years, told the News today he has no immediate plans for the future. He did not specify a reason for his departure.

Holder of education degrees from Youngstown University and Kent State University, Scott, after a stint in military service, taught elementary grades three years in the West Branch district, then was elevated to assistant high school principal. He held that post two years before his promotion to principal.

Clerk Rhea Emmons says the board has a "few applications" for the principal's job.

Resignations were also accepted from Alpheus Rohrer, chemistry and physics teacher; Mrs. Ann May, elementary teacher at Knox Local; and Miss Margaret Hanna and Miss Shirley Morlan, home economics instructors.

Salem or Salem area teachers hired for the 1964-65 school year were Mrs. Don Clarico, wife of Salem's grid coach; Mrs. Marjorie Miller of Sevakken Lake; Mrs. Helen Krichbaum; and Mrs. Donna Denny of RD 2. Mrs. Clarico will teach girls' physical education; Mrs. Miller, English; and the other two, elementary grades.

Other instructors given contracts were: Charles Wilson of —Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky.

—Rep. William E. Miller of New York.
—Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio.

Goldwater hasn't ruled anybody in or out of the running, a source close to the Arizona senator said today.

But Goldwater has said he thinks the Republican National Convention will want to balance the ticket—if he heads it—with a moderate Republican from the East.

The four men associates say Goldwater has mentioned all fit that pattern.

Publicly, Goldwater usually bypasses questions about a vice-presidential choice. "I'm looking for delegates, not vice-presidents," is his stock reply. He has talked about Scranton, suggesting the Pennsylvania governor would be well advised to consider the vice-presidential nomination.

That way, Goldwater said Sunday, if the ticket lost, the governor would be in a position to capture the presidential nomination in 1968.

Scranton questioned whether a ticket pairing him with Goldwater would make sense. He said they would disagree on how best to implement some Republican principles.

But Goldwater described their areas of disagreement as very minor.

With his delegate strength mounting steadily toward the 655 votes he needs for the nomination, Goldwater was said by an aide to be viewing the vice-presidential spot in terms of how best to strengthen the ticket next November — not with an eye to building his convention power.

An Associated Press survey now puts his delegate total at 540—with indications he could push it past the nominating number next week.

Efforts to blunt his drive appeared to have collapsed at the National Governors Conference in Cleveland.

No Formal Ceremony Planned

State Gives OK
After Inspection;
Job Begun Year Ago

The W. State St. Overpass, more than a year in construction, will be open to traffic Friday evening.

This was the good news from the Ohio Department of Highways today as workmen of the A. P. O'Horo Co., general contractor, completed what few finishing touches remained to be done and gathered up their tools to move to another job.

The state's announcement that traffic can move over the Overpass Friday followed a final inspection of the grade separation improvement here yesterday by Fred Pfah of Columbus, construction field engineer for the state highway department, and C. Clark Street, field engineer from the state's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia.

They reported that the superstructure (bridge) portion of the improvement is satisfactory and gave the "go ahead" for traffic use of the span, although a small amount of work yet remains.

No Formal Ceremony

Division Engineer Earl Nelson said there are no plans for any formal ribbon-cutting ceremony. "We will just take down the barricades Friday evening and traffic can proceed."

The bridge which will carry traffic across the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks has been center-lined and a second coat of paint to the metal flashing along the sidewalks on the bridge will be applied tomorrow.

City service department workers were ordered by Mayor Dean Cranmer today to complete street lane markings on W. State St. and to erect a flasher light at Jennings and W. State St. where motorists have become accustomed to driving onto State without stopping.

The Overpass, built at a total estimated cost of $1,185,230, is supported by seven piers, all set at 38 degree for a proper approach to the railroad tracks.

In all, 335 pilings were driven into the ground. Length of the poles varied from 35 to 70 feet, depending on their location on the project. A total of 14,000 feet of pilings were used.

"The angle of the piers lends more strength to the structure by providing constant pressure along all sections of the piers," Robert Pautot, job superintendent for the O'Horo Co. explained.

The overpass which is 538 feet, or about three-tenths of a mile long, contains 427,000 pounds of reinforcing steel and another 722,000 pounds of structural steel. The grade separation, which has a 23-foot clearance at its peak, also includes about 7,000 yards of concrete.

Years of planning, months of actual construction, tons of steel, thousands of yards of concrete and innumerable hours spent in conferences, at hearings and for planning, went into the W. State St. grade separation project.

Started In April of 1963
Although plans for the overpass were "in the mill" since 1959 — and possibly before that — the general contract for the $1,185,230 project was not signed until Jan. 8, 1963, with the first construction beginning in April of that year.

The city's first definite move on the span was in July of 1961 when Council agreed by ordinance to pay five per cent of the entire project's cost, with

Rights Filibuster In Senate Choked Off

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today, in a history-shattering move, to choke off the 75-day old Southern filibuster against the civil rights bill.

Each senator's time to debate the bill and all amendments will now be limited to one hour. This appears to assure Senate passage of the far-reaching bill, possibly before the end of next week.

The House passed the bill on Feb. 10 by a vote of 290-130. The Senate has been battling over it since March 9, with Southern opponents mounting a record - breaking filibuster against it.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate ground through its first all-night session on the civil rights bill and moved into a showdown on choking off the filibuster in its 75th day.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., held the floor through the night with a speech to an all but empty chamber, denouncing the bill line by line.

But Byrd was working against a deadline of 10 a.m. with no hope of achieving even real delay. At the outset of the marathon oratorical effort at 7:38 Tuesday, he had said he would quit at 9:59 a.m. today. Actually, he stopped at 9:52 a.m.

That allowed an eight-minute recess and the start, on schedule, of the new session. Under the rules, the stop-talk was due one hour later.

The bipartisan leadership appeared confident of mustering the two-thirds majority — 67 votes if all 100 senators vote — needed to invoke the debate-limiting cloture rule.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern forces, wasn't conceding anything. "It will be terribly close," he told newsmen.

Obviously, the outcome could determine the fate of the bill, previously passed by the House. The Senate has been battling it since March 9.

Since the cloture rule was adopted in 1917, all attempts to apply it to a civil rights bill have failed.

If cloture is ordered, each senator's speaking time on the bill and all amendments will be limited to one hour from then on.

The Senate was kept in session through the night by a marathon speech by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., a foe of the bill, urging his colleagues not to vote to shut off the debate. Usually only a couple of senators were on hand to keep him company.

Under an agreement reached before Byrd began his speech, the vote is to be taken immediately after a midmorning quorum call.

Leadership hopes of mustering the two-thirds majority were bolstered by the Senate's rejection Tuesday of three amendments by substantial margins after a jury trial amendment was adopted by 51 to 48 count.

A chance to vote on the amendments before the cloture showdown was demanded by a

KSU Prexy Cites Education Lag

By GLEN SCHOTTEN

The picture of Ohio as a rich land dotted with a surplus of colleges is illusory; instead, the state in education is "behind the eight ball" in many respects.

This is a fragment of the image of Ohio's higher education program as seen through the eyes of one of the state's top educators, Dr. Robert W. White, president of Kent State University.

After addressing the Salem Rotary Club Tuesday, Dr. White also maintained that the Salem Academic Center of KSU will continue to prosper because of the increasingly large fountain of prosperous youth it has to draw on.

"While Ohio has a good roster of independent arts colleges, the overall provisions for higher education are less in the state than in her sister states," the prexy said.

He charged that the state has a special lag in turning out Ph. D. and master's degrees and engineering graduates, and

Rights March In Florida Disrupted

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Gangs of screaming white men and youths attacked white and Negro marchers with fists and feet in bold defiance of the law in this old city.

The slugging, kicking attacks moved in on their victims—marching two abreast on a downtown sidewalk—and then fled when policemen armed with clubs moved in Tuesday night.

About a dozen demonstrators were assaulted. The violence ended when marchers returned to the church where they began their protest.

Police headquarters said there were no arrests.

The march came within a few hours after a federal judge in Jacksonville ordered police to lift their ban on night demonstrations and to reduce bail for a group of marchers arrested earlier.

"Despite what happened, we are going to continue protesting unjust discrimination," said the leader of the march, the Rev. Andrew Young.

Young was struck in the mouth, knocked down and beaten but not hurt seriously. Wiping at a cut on his lip, Young

4 Injured In Road Accidents

Drivers Sought In Hit-Skip Mishaps

A young Hanoverton girl and three other persons were injured in two of four traffic mishaps in the district Tuesday. The Lisbon post of the State Highway recorded two hit-skip incidents and are seeking the motorists who left the scenes of the accidents.

Robert A. Rippin, 59, of Indiantown, Fla., suffered a broken left elbow and a lacerated left arm when a truck sideswiped his southbound car at 4:15 p.m. on Route 45, three-tenths of a mile south of Salem. He was taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment. The Patrol said the truck went left of center, sideswiping the auto and traveling on.

In a mishap at 1 p.m., Cindy Watson, 9, of Hanoverton suffered a head injury and two others were hurt in a collision on Route 172 near New Garden.

Others injured were Mrs. Mary Dennis, 39, of Canton, neck whiplash, and Debra Kelley, 12, of RD 1, Belmont, head bump. All three were to be treated by family physicians.

They were victims of a crash of cars operated by Luther O. Karr, 65, of Canton and Mrs. Doris E. Watson, 39, of Hanoverton, mother of Cindy. The Canton and Belmont persons hurt were riding in the Karr auto.

The Patrol said Mrs. Watson was passing Karr when she cut

River-Lake Group Will Meet Friday

The board of directors of the four-county Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association will meet Friday noon at the Salem Golf Club.

J. Paul Mossman, c. Youngstown, president, said the agenda will be devoted principally to discussion of plans for construction of new stages of the road that eventually will link Ashtabula and East Liverpool.

Guests at the luncheon session will include Earl Nelson, head of the State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, and Cliff Newhall, head of the Division 4 office in Ravenna.

The association is comprised of representatives from Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula counties.

Wealthy Presidents

Johnson's Fortune Estimated at $9 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Lyndon B. Johnsons are doing quite well financially — what with an estimated wealth of more than $9 million—but don't get the idea they are the richest family ever to inhabit the White House.

Who, then, was our best-heeled president? It's hard to figure—because of the changing values of money and other factors—but all evidence points to George Washington.

When the father of his country died he left real estate valued then at $530,000, including the famous Mount Vernon. Translated into today's values that might mean $20 million or more.

Though Washington was rich in land, slaves and tobacco, he was sometimes short of cash. In fact, just before his first inauguration, he had to hit a fellow townsman in Alexandria, Va., up for a loan of 600 pounds, at 6 per cent interest.

"Short crops and other causes not entirely within my control" had temporarily strapped him, he said.

Second richest president may be Herbert Hoover, though this is not known with any certainty. An engineer and mining promoter, he rolled up a $6-million fortune as early as 1914. There is no exact information now this has grown since, though it is known that Hoover has made large gifts to education and charity.

Other well-to-do presidents: John F. Kennedy—whose estate was reported to total something like $10 million, at least. Franklin D. Roosevelt — $1,085,500.

Theodore Roosevelt — $811,000.

Thomas Jefferson died owing $40,000. He had really splurged fixing up that magnificent home, Monticello, at Charlottesville, Va., and was never a man to stint the pennies during his many years of ill-paid public service.

Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman are feeling no pain financially.

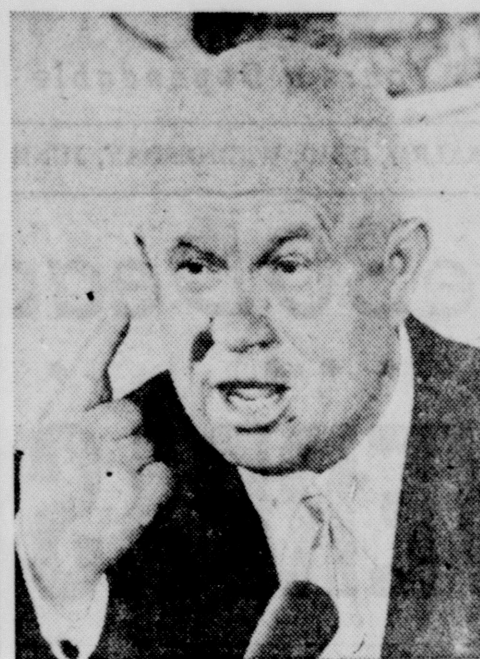

Back in 1952, during the presidential campaign, Eisenhower published a financial accounting showing a 10-year net income after taxes of $643,148. The bulk of this was a $476,250 net on his book "Crusade in Europe."

Truman has done well, starting his retirement by writing his memoirs for a net of maybe $250,000, and going right on.

All this delving into presidential fortunes, or lack thereof, is occasioned by a report in the Washington Evening Star Tuesday that the Johnson family is worth $9 million or more, in television and radio stations, land, banks and stocks.

Chamber To Sponsor Father's Day Event

Columbiana Contest Is Set

By MRS. CHARLES WRIGHT

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Father's Day contest, according to an announcement by Sam Lindsay, Jr., president, at Monday's meeting held at the Kaiser Refractories Office. Children under 12 are eligible to submit letters for judging on the subject of "What My Father Means To Me."

Letters may be mailed to Miss Kathryn Fuhrman, at Fuhrman's Insurance Agency, South Main St., until June 21. Prizes in the amounts of $10, $15, and $30 will be awarded for the best entries.

The Chamber is currently conducting a membership drive, under the chairmanship of Ray McCormick, for renewal of old memberships and addition of new businesses and industries interested in participating in the organization. Other members of the committee are Chuck Cope and Charles Fisher.

MISS NORMA SHADE of Leetonia, who recently returned from Brazil, presented a program concerning her participation in a 4-H program in that country, in which Peace Corps members assisted Brazilian agricultural agents in the organization of 4-H type programs, at Monday's Rotary Club meeting.

Miss Shade showed slides taken in various areas of Brazil and gave a brief history of the country, explaining the economic imbalance between the rich and poor inhabitants. Jack Kumpel was program chairman.

Next week's program chairman, Charles Wright, will present Rotarian Dennis Paulson, business manager of the Columbiana Ledger, who will discuss the integral part a newspaper plays in a community. Visitors included J. Paul Graham and Tom Miller of Salem; Henry Bertolini of Youngstown and Gene Opsitnik of Struthers.

Ed Dillon, president elect, presided in the absence of Charles Harper, who, with his wife, is attending a meeting of Rotary International at Toronto, Canada.

A RECORDING ENTITLED, "The Strangest Secret," by Earl Nightingale, whose broadcasts are heard over several local radio stations, was presented at Monday's Kiwanis Club meeting by Amos Campbell, program chairman. During the talk, Nightingale stressed the importance of setting goals early in life which can be attained by the retirement years through continued effort and determination.

Following the talk, John Gold-week's meeting will feature Dr. C. W. Dewalt, speaking on the subject, "Your Heart and You." Pandorah Rebekah Lodge meets at 8 p.m. Monday at the IOOF Hall, with inspection scheduled under the inspecting officer, Mrs. James Elliott, of Alliance. Degree practice will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, at the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Ralph Luek will present her piano pupils in a recital to be held at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Joshua Dixon School. The public is invited to attend.

MR. AND MRS. GENE NEWSOM of Napoleon are parents of a son, Thomas Allen, born June 3 at Napoleon. Newsom is manager of the North West Egg Association. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Newsom of E. Woodland Ave. in Columbiana. The Newsoms have two daughters.

BOYS AND GIRLS ages nine through 15 years will be eligible to enter the annual "Soapbox Derby" sponsored by the Columbiana Junior Chamber of Commerce at 9 a.m. July 4 at Firestone Park between the bath house and football field on the blacktop drive.

Contestants must be residents of the Columbiana school district and must have built their own cars. Racing will be divided into two classes: Class A, ages 13 to 15 years, and Class B, ages 9 to 13.

Other qualifications listed among the official rules are: The cost of the car must not exceed $25. The car is to be constructed primarily of wood with open wheels not to exceed 12 inches in diameter. Each car is to have a braking system.

Car and driver combined must not weigh over 250 pounds. The cockpit is to be open. Each car is to pass inspection by race officials. Races are to be won on a system of elimination by heat. Cars will start from a standstill on the starting ramp.

Prizes are to be awarded in the following classes: Fastest car, best constructed car and car having best braking system. Decisions of the judges will be final.

Application blanks for entries are available from Jaycees and at the Columbiana Tractor Co. Bob Elder is serving as chairman of the event.

RICHARD DETWILER was named first and second class winner in the annual "slide of the year" contest held Monday at a Youngstown radio and television station. His entries were entitled, "Kissing Fish" and "Fourth of July."

Third class winner was Bill Rupert. Judges of the 120 slides presented were three members of the Salem Camera Club, Miss Daisy Stackhouse, Miss Wanda Culler and Mrs. Donald Shoop.

Following the contest, Jack Beatty, a member of the local club, and continuity director at the station, conducted the members who attended on a tour of the station where they sat in on a live television broadcast.

Lunch was served at the conclusion of the evening.

Dr. R. M. Gaver, Don Oberholzer and Art Hickman will represent the club as judges of the Salem contest tonight at Salem.

Next meeting is scheduled for September with Dr. Gaver to be installed as president of the club, succeeding Oberholzer.

MR. AND MRS. AUBREY Clay and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Clay of Wilson, N. C., have returned home after spending several days with Mrs. Clay's father, Byron Maxson of Salem and Clay's mother, Mrs. Mary Bingham of S. Main St., Columbiana.

Man Found Guilty Of Lippiatt Holdup

A verdict of guilty was returned by a jury which deliberated one hour Tuesday afternoon in the trial of Sam Miner, 33, Youngstown, charged with the armed robbery of Clarence Lippiatt at his linoleum store, west of Salem on Route 62, Feb. 27.

Miner, in a signed statement, admitted his part in the $90 robbery but had placed all the blame on John Pounds, 32, Alliance, who was found guilty several weeks ago of same offense. Both men had been shot by Alliance police during their capture.

The trial began Monday before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, who held up sentencing pending filing a motion for a new trial.

Miner is confined to the county jail, but Pounds is out on bond, also waiting hearing for a new trial.

U.S. Ambassador to Discuss Laos Flights With Souvanna

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger said today that continuance of American reconnaissance flights over Laos and fighter escorts for the flights is still a matter of decision between him and Premier Souvanna Phouma. Unger told a news conference he expects to consult with Prince Souvanna Thursday on the flights when the premier returns from an overnight trip to the royal capital of Luang Prabang. Souvanna went there this morning, presumably to brief King Savang Vathana on developments.

The ambassador was commenting on unofficial reports that Souvanna had said he wanted the American reconnaissance flights—which he requested three weeks ago—stopped today. Unger said he had no formal knowledge of Souvanna's reported desire to have the flights halted. But well-informed sources said no flights had been scheduled for today.

These sources said there had been no plans for daily flights on an indefinite basis. They indicated the purpose of the reconnaissance missions—to spot Communist military concentrations—might have been achieved but that further periodic flights might be needed for checks.

Souvanna indicated to newsmen Tuesday that he had not given authorization for armed fighters to escort the photo planes. The U.S. decision to provide armed fighter cover for the unarmed planes has stirred a controversy in Vientiane.

The Communist Pathet Lao charged in a Peking broadcast that six U.S. jet fighters flew over Khang Khay, the Pathet Lao headquarters in central Laos, and nearby Phong Savang Tuesday and attacked Phong Savang with 12 bombs and two rockets.

Prince Souphanouvong, the Pathet Lao leader, had been expected to complain further about the reported attack today at a meeting in Khang Khay with members of the three-nation International Control Commission. Soviet Ambassador Sergei Afanassiev and British Charge d'Affaires John Denison.

Teacher, Nurse Submit Resignations at Lisbon

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night accepted the resignation of Miss Lynn Elliott of East Palestine, fourth grade teacher at McKinley School.

The board failed to act on the resignation of Mrs. Mildred Ashbridge of East Palestine, also submitted last night. Mrs. Ashbridge reported on her duties and also made several complaints. She has served as school nurse eight years.

Cornell Monda, school psychologist, presented a report covering the past school term and requested the board for a salary increase when funds are available.

Supt. Oliver Payne read the special education report submitted by Mrs. Dorothy Foulks.

The board approved bus storage rentals for the year and authorized the purchase of physics laboratory equipment totaling $517.16 for teacher John Spina.

The board refused the purchase of a Thermo-fax "secretary" for McKinley School but authorized purchase of the Croft Educational Service for teachers for one year at a cost of $48.50. The board declined to renew the subscription to the National Public School Public Relation Association at a cost of $15.

Supt. Payne reported on the summer maintenance program; the purchase of a new freezer for McKinley cafeteria; remodeling of Lincoln shower room and installation of new lockers; summer reading program and the school levy which will be placed on the ballot at the November election.

Bills totaling $55,657 were ordered paid.

The board's next meeting will be July 7 at 7:30 p.m., preceded by a session to consider the budget at 7.

YOUTH CITED AFTER Two-Car Collision

James J. McCoy, 20, of 320 Vine St. was cited for failure to yield the right of way after his auto was involved in a two-car mishap at 2:57 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of N. Lincoln Ave. and E. 4th St.

Police said McCoy, traveling west on 4th St., stopped for a stop sign and then pulled onto Lincoln Ave. in front of a car driven by John Edward Lamb, 43, of Cortland.

Cortland was treated at Salem Central Clinic for minor injuries of the leg, knee and mouth.

Chest X-Ray Unit Will Visit Plant

Workers at the Deming Division Crane Co. will be offered a chest X-ray Monday by the Columbiana County Public Health League's Mobile Unit.

Adults who get on the Mobile Unit for a chest X-ray at the Deming plant will be asked the following question: "Have you sopped smoking since the first of the year?" Answers may give a clue to the immediate effort of the Surgeon General's report on "Smoking and Health," according to Lillian R. Schroeder, executive director of the Health League.

How It All Began

No more stirring denunciation of lopsided government power ever will be made than former President Eisenhower's slambang indictment before the Governors Conference in Cleveland.

The former chief of our federal bureaucracy didn't have a good word to say for it. Not only did he urge governors to quit leaning on it as a source of money but also to weaken its authority through constitutional amendments.

He even urged members of Congress to curtail their prerogatives by giving more prerogatives to the executive branch, though how this would whittle away federal influence was not explained.

The former president was in no mood or need to explain. His mission was to tell the governors what they didn't want to hear and had no intention of taking to heart anyway. He admitted this by telling about his own failure to shift responsibility from Washington to state capitals while he was in the White House.

AS PRESIDENT, Dwight Eisenhower did not "slow the march on Washington." He will do no better as a former president. This is deplorable. It bodes ill for the future of the Republic. But it is unavoidable, and the thing that makes it unavoidable is the federal government's power to impose taxes without direct consent.

This makes Washington the "sugar daddy" of the Republic. It puts every state and every locality on a string to be manipulated by politicians who know how to twist money out of the federal establishment.

Elected public officials stay in favor by spending money, and Washington is a key-club gold mine for every one of them — a bottomless source of wherewithal for expressways, airports, buildings, paving streets, digging ditches, dredging creeks, putting up new buildings — not to mention multibillion moon-shot projects and miscellaneous boondoggles that pad regional payrolls.

OUR FORMER president couldn't have stated the case for a return to state and local responsibility better than he stated it in Cleveland. The federal government should cut its budget cut to the bone. But it won't.

In 1954, President Eisenhower was willing to settle for $65 billion. He asked for $80 billion in 1960. Meanwhile, the national debt had risen from $271,259,000,000 in 1954 to $286,330,000,000 in 1960, representing the accumulated deficits of the Eisenhower era.

As president, Mr. Eisenhower was powerless to stop expansion of federal spending. As a former president, he is powerless for the same reason.

The people initiating spending programs don't want to stop not as long as Washington doesn't have to ask the people's consent to soak them with taxes. Let the people vote on federal taxes and Washington will be as prudent as a spinster living on old-age benefits.

Important Road

Most area motorists will smile favorably on the county's announced plans to improve the Pidgeon Road by widening it to 24 feet.

The cutoff stretch south of Salem has become an important highway artery to carry vehicular traffic between State Route 45 and the Depot and Newgarden Roads and, when the Rt. 9 relocation through the western part of the city takes place, the Pidgeon Road will serve as a vital connecting link.

County Commissioners and County Engineer Charles Snyder have been looking ahead to this and other highway improvements that will be needed in the foreseeable future as Salem's community growth takes noticeable strides. The state highway department's financial assistance in projects like these is likewise appreciated.

Gratitude

At this time, a few acknowledgments. I want to thank Pearl Bailey and Dinah Shore for their singing;

Danny Kaye for his genius as an entertainer;

Bill Cosby for adding a new dimension to stand-up monology;

Sports Illustrated for a rationale on auto racing, which calls for philosophy as well as skill in operating a racing car;

Ministers who testified on the touchy prayer issue for explaining why they do not think praying should be put into the careless hands of politically constituted authority;

The people who write "Speaking Out" pieces for Saturday Evening Post and the good old Post for thinking up such a fine idea;

The vagaries of precipitation for restoring faith in the probabilities of precipitation that have given this part of the country its reputation for beauty and greenery;

JAMES RESTON of The New York Times for his revealing observations on the passing scene — a note of sanity in a cacophony of senselessness;

The manufacturers of a ball-point pen that works perfectly, is flawlessly designed, does not mess up the fingers of its users, yet retails at 19 cents;

The processors of food who have made it possible for individuals and couples to eat well without the fuss and bother once required in the preparation of food in small quantities;

Just the Facts

When the Warren Commission report on the Kennedy assassination is issued, perhaps by the end of this month, a fresh wave of international speculation will form. The New York Times has learned through interviews in European capitals that any report which tries to wrap up the assassination with a pat explanation will be rejected out of hand in Europe.

The same skepticism The Times has found abroad exists here, too. There is sound reason for its existence.

Lee Oswald's murder at the hands of Jack Ruby destroyed the only possible source of dependable information about the accused man's actions last Nov. 22. Motives, incentives and explanations for the crime he has been accused of all have to be filled in with conjectural evidence.

Tire builders for taking out most of the blowout risk that plagued motorists at one time;

Howard Johnson restaurants that have made it possible for travelers to buy standard fare at reasonable prices, with assurance of uniform quality;

Chewing gum manufacturers for being the only purveyors of merchandise to keep the price of their product at pre-inflation levels without cheap-jacking the product;

All the unknown and mostly unthanked geniuses who have made it possible for the animals we share the earth with to eat as well or better than humans eat;

HAIR STYLISTS who have mastered the art of making even the plainest females look attractive, as far as their hair is concerned;

Tobaccoists whose skill has made pipe-smoking enjoyable for every taste, thanks to an infinite variety of blends;

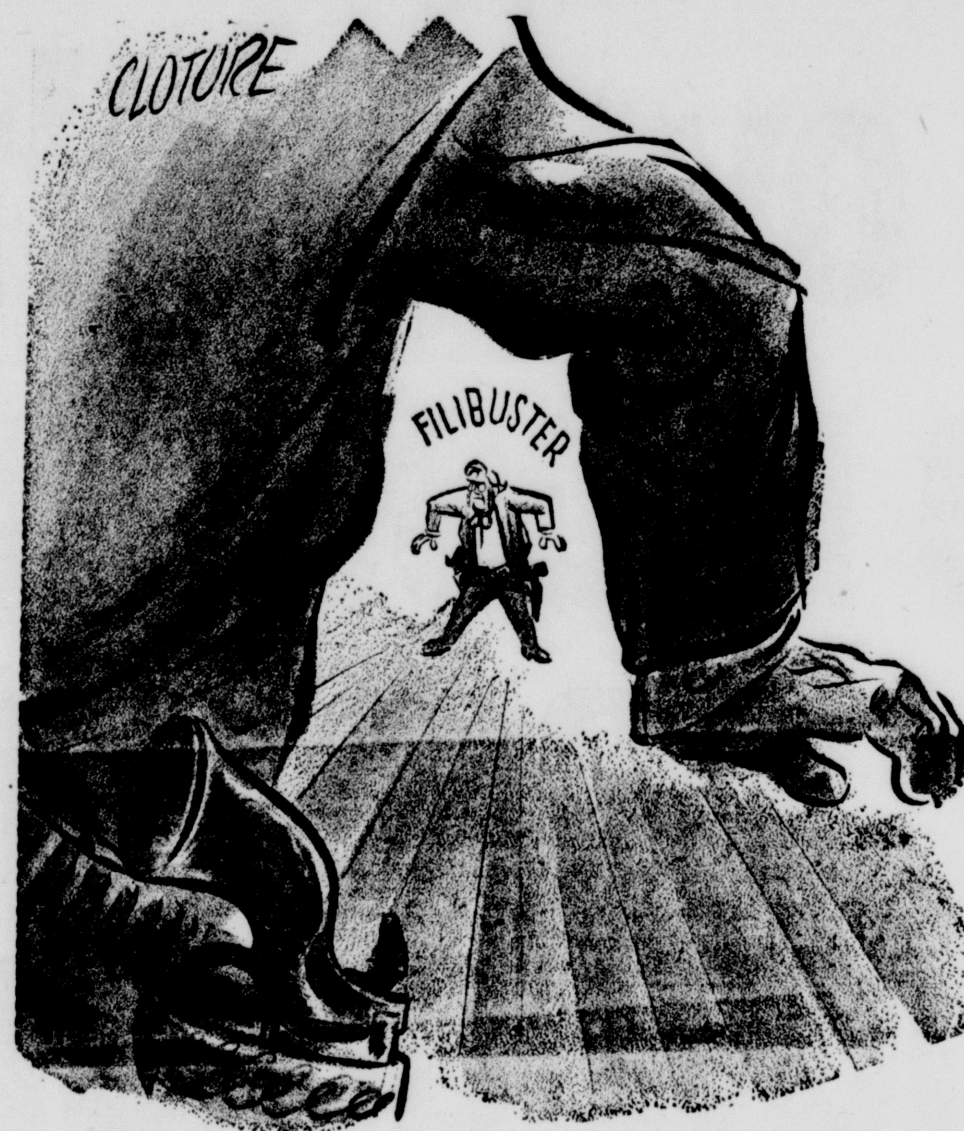

Doctors and dentists who make complex diagnoses seem easy and obvious by applying their accumulated experience to their patients' problems;

The realization by traffic engineers that overhead signs are the only ones that can be seen properly by motorists on multi-lane highways;

The textile industry for giving long-suffering mankind new fabrics suitable for warm weather.

This only begins to suggest the diversity of my gratitude, which is far-reaching and sincere, despite the fact it isn't expressed often enough.

"Make Your Move, Suh!"

Bob Kennedy for Senator

By VICTOR RIESEL

Bob Kennedy told Lyndon Johnson, during their 55-minute talk last Thursday that he positively will declare himself a candidate for the U. S. Senate from New York within two weeks and is ready to resign from the justice Department if the President wishes.

That's precisely what intimate friends of Mr. Johnson in New York are saying. They expect the attorney general to make his announcement on or about June 18. He can't wait much longer. Other forces are pressing for commitments from the liberal and labor leaders who will be the dynamo of any Democratic candidate campaign.

Obviously the regular Democratic machine leaders are not receiving Kennedy with boundless joy. They had their plans and these did not include the attorney general.

The real fight, the real money and the manpower, therefore, will have to come from union and Negro ranks. And they will not wait more than a few weeks for word from Bob Kennedy. So they will have it.

THERE ARE several reasons for this decision, the New York politicians are saying. One is Lyndon Johnson's remarkable performance in making himself the symbol of militant liberalism and integration as well as the voice of labor.

Mr. Johnson, the first modern Southern candidate for the presidency, set about accomplishing this within a few hours of his airplane inauguration. On reaching Washington he contacted such Negro leaders as Roy Wilkins of the NAACP, Jim Farmer of CORE, Urban League Leader Whitney Young and Martin Luther King Jr.

He had them into his office and typical with his conversation with Young, whom he told, eyeball to eyeball, that he would not make mellifluous speeches but would deliver to the Negro people.

Within 24 hours of his arrival in Washington he telephoned the Ladies Garment Workers leader David Dubinsky, AFL-CIO President George Meany, Steelworkers' chief Dave McDonald, the Hatters' Alex Rose, who guides the Liberal party of New York, and several others.

Many of them subsequently received several communications a week from him. The President traveled to New York almost as frequently as an Eastern Airline shuttle.

SCORES OF REQUESTS from labor leaders were granted quickly. He was theirs and they were his months ago. Significantly every one of them told him they'd go along with his choice of vice president. They urged no one on him.

Then came Barry Goldwater's victory in California. White House thinking shifted. The President is now looking for a right-of-center, not left-of-center, running mate. Some one like Sen. Stuart Symington—businessman type—or Northern conservative Democrat, perhaps. This would not be Bob Kennedy.

Meanwhile the latter's personal secret poll was shown him as a strong potential nominee.

True, labor's leadership is split 200,000 votes—perhaps more.

On the subject. Many of the union officials are against him. But his friend, Pierre Salinger won in California over the opposition of virtually all the labor men—the regular AFL-CIO leadership, the Teamsters and Harry Bridges' Longshoremen (ILWU). So Kennedy will not permit the lack of labor unanimity in New York to deter him.

IRONICALLY, Barry Goldwater's victory in California made the Senate race in New York more attractive to Bob Kennedy. Goldwater not only had knocked Nelson Rockefeller out of the presidential running but had weakened the incumbent Kenneth Keating, a Rockefeller ally.

If Goldwater is nominated, Keating will either have to join him or disown him. If the New York senator supports the Arizona, he loses the liberal vote. If he disowns him, he loses the conservative vote, which he may lose anyway. The Conservative party in New York State is considering nominating its own candidate for the Senate against Keating. If so, Keating will probably lose between 150,000 and 200,000 votes—perhaps more. That's why insiders say he has decided to go for broke on the U. S. Senate race. And he might go broke, politically speaking—Kenneth Keating is a very popular and hardworking senator—and campaigner.

Statesmanship Needed

By LEON DENNEN

UNITED NATIONS. N. Y. —(NEA)—Not the Russians but the Red Chinese now determine and co-ordinate Communist moves and strategy in Southeast Asia.

Specialists on China see a direct link between the successes of the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam and the Pathet Lao victories in Laos.

Yet some of President Johnson's advisers persist in their refusal to face the grim reality. They defend past attempts to apply half-hearted and piecemeal solutions to the problems facing the little nations in Southeast Asia.

American policy-makers, though in search of a peaceful solution in Laos and Viet Nam, tend to ignore the fact that Asia is dominated today by the Chinese dragon which Napoleon hoped would be allowed to sleep undisturbed. They are critical of French President De Gaulle's view that there can be no peace in the Far East without Red China's consent.

In his forceful speech at the United Nations, U. S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson pointed an accusing finger at Moscow. He warned the Russians that they were running risks by encouraging Communist aggression in Southeast Asia. Nevertheless, the State Department's diplomats continue to pin their hopes on Moscow's dubious pledge to support a neutral government in Laos and on Nikita Khrushchev's policy of peaceful co-existence.

HOW REALISTIC is such a policy? By now it should be clear even to Foggy Bottom's optimistic officials that Red China's military adventures are "revisionists" as much as against the American "imperialists."

Mao Tse-tung, in search of a place in the sun, is obviously out to prove to the United States that it is he who is now calling the tune in Asia. Since Red China is not a member of

Amending Power

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A surprising statement has just been filed with the House Judiciary Committee by 223 lawyers, including 55 deans of law schools and several college professors, many of them of the so-called liberal school of thought. They have taken a stand which will be construed as meaning that, so far as possible, further amendments to the Constitution must be blocked and that the Supreme Court of the United States must be left to rewrite the Constitution a will.

The current controversy arises as a consequence of the Supreme Court's decisions which have produced widespread apprehension that the word "god" cannot be mentioned in public school exercises and that voluntary prayers may be prohibited in educational institutions or in connection with official activities of the government.

THE STATEMENT warns those who have been agitating for a constitutional amendment that they are, in effect, engaging in something bordering on impropriety.

«Dozens of amendments, for instance, have been proposed to overrule the decisions of the Supreme Court on the subject of prayer exercises or ceremonies in schools, but the statement of the 223 citizens asks for a kind of cloture on further consideration of all such amendments by Congress. The statement says:

«American liberties have been secure in large measure because they have been guaranteed by a Bill of Rights which the American people have until now deemed practically unamendable.»

This will come as a shock to many people who have always thought the Constitution could be amended whenever public opinion desired it and that there is nothing so sacred about anything in the Constitution that the people couldn't change it at will. Objection rather has been voiced against the Supreme Court's assumption of a right virtually to introduce any meaning it pleases, thus giving to an oligarchy of nine judges appointed for life the power to amend the Constitution through judicial decisions.

THE RECENT movement to submit to the people an amendment safe-guarding the right to pray grew out of a deep-seated belief that the Supreme Court had taken away a fundamental right and had indeed violated that part of the Constitution which states that there should be no interference with "the free exercise" or religions. The statement of the protesting group, however, says:

«What a ever disagreements some may have with the Bible-prayer decisions, we believe strongly that they do not justify this experiment. Accordingly, we urge that Congress approve no measures to amend the First Amendment in order to overrule these decisions.»

The lawyers who filed the statement have a right to their opinion and to argue against any proposed amendment to the Constitution, but it comes as a surprise to find such a learned group stating that the mere attempt to use the amending process prescribed in the Constitution is dangerous. The sponsors of his viewpoint add:

«If the first clause of the Bill of Rights, forbidding laws respecting an establishment of religion, should prove so easily susceptible to impairment by amendment, none of the succeeding clauses will be secure.»

SUCH SWEEPING declaration is hardly justified because, for one thing, there are more than 100 proposals for a constitutional amendment, along with the resolution submitted by Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-NY, in behalf of many members of Congress, all of which are merely designed to safeguard the right to pray in official surroundings.

There are many ways by which this right can be assured without imposing any established church. Just as one group respects the right of another group to hold differing opinions, there is every justification for at least tolerating voluntary prayer by another body of citizens, whether outside or inside a government building, in a public ceremony.

Entirely apart from the merits of the issue itself as it relates to the right to prayer, the controversy over methods of amending the Constitution may be intensified.

In 1962 the National Council of State Governments adopted a resolution proposing an additional formula. Thus, if two thirds of the state legislatures submitted identical texts for a proposed amendment three-fourths of the states could then ratify it without any further action by Congress.

Whether the foregoing proposal is a desirable one or not, the fact remains that many constitutional lawyers in the United States believe that, if Congress is going to block the amending process, some way must be found to enable the people themselves to initiate amendments through their own state legislature.

Social Events In Lisbon Area

By ETTA MAE ALEXANDER

Thursday morning three Lisbon boys will join others in the area for the bus trip to Boys' State.

Bob Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alexander of Canton Road, was chosen by the Lisbon Rotary Club; Tim Bucher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bucher of Prospect St., by the American Legion, and Ron Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Watkins of Canton Road, by the Kiwanis Club, to attend 1964 Boys' State at Ohio University June 11-20.

Seventy-eight relatives and friends attended the open house reception in honor of recent newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Jan Halverstadt, Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Halverstadt of Elkton Road.

Peonies and orange blossoms arranged in cut glass, centered the buffet table, overlaid in white linen. Miss Kathy Halverstadt was in charge of the register. Mrs. Delbert Sittler of Leetonia and Mrs. Kent Schmidt of Lisbon presided at the tea service and punch bowl.

Others assisting were Mrs. Kenneth Clapsaddle, Mrs. Mark Arnold, Mrs. Bruce Keslar, Mrs. Orrie Taylor, Mrs. Gerald Weinsack and Mrs. Ray Alexander.

THE VICTORY CLUB was entertained by Mrs. Marion Figley of E. Lincoln Way Monday evening. Her daughter, Mrs. John Kelly of Salem Road, was a guest.

Mrs. John Chillik and Mrs. Clarence Fife received the prizes for five hundred.

Hostess for the club June 22, will be Mrs. Robert Stacey of N. Jefferson St.

Ten members of the Past Presidents Parley of the American Legion met Monday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Homer Ferguson of N. Jefferson St., who presided.

Members approved the donation of money for a CARE package. Following the meeting, the group made cancer bandages for the American Cancer Society.

A picnic dinner will be held July 13 at the home of Mrs. Albert Webber of W. Maple St. Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Heilbronner of E. Lincoln Way were Mrs. Mamie Heilbronner and Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Heilbronner of Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Jackie Rouse was accepted as a member of the Lisbon Lionettes at the meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Milvin Brown Jr. of Canton Road. The pledge of membership was given by Mrs. Margaret Galbreath.

Final plans were made for the club's golf game booth at the Lions street fair June 10-13.

August 16, the group will present a program for the patients of Oakland Veterans Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Birthday gifts were presented to Mrs. Robert Apel and Mrs. Don Poole by their secret pals.

The next meeting, July 8, will be at the home of Mrs. Apel of East Liverpool.

Boy Failing 5th Grade Work Goes to College

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Billy Green, who is failing his fifth grade subjects, is going to college this summer.

Billy, 12, scored 200 on an intelligence test administered by the University of South Florida. The genius category starts at 140.

County school Supt. Woodrow Garden says Billy reads eight to 12 advanced science books a week but struggles with his fifth grade work, perhaps because it doesn't challenge him.

The board of Brevard Junior College voted Tuesday to allow Billy to enroll in one course.

Billy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Green of Eau Gallie, Fla., probably will take a mathematics or science course.

"We want to determine what kind of program he should have," said Garden.

'Old Fashioned Bargain Days' Set June 18-20

Salem merchants have set aside June 18-19-20 to present their annual Old Fashioned Bargain Days, according to an announcement today by the committee in charge of the event.

The committee promises that this year's event will be the most unusual in years, with all participating stores offering gigantic savings in merchandise. Prices will compare with those of the early 1900s, the committee added.

To make the promotion more interesting to the Salem area customers, events will include free balloons for the kiddies, giving away of four pony colts, and the dropping of $2,000 in gift certificates from an airplane supplied by the Salem Air Park, Inc.

Window displays will contain interesting displays of items brought in by anyone who wishes. A prize will be given to the person who submits the oldest or most unusual item.

The committee includes Glenn Oliver, Ron Kroff, Horace Schwartz, Elliot Hansell, Robert McCulloch Jr., Lou Manieri, Val Galletti and Leonard Spencer.

The term "senior senator" refers to length of continuous service rather than age and the senior senator of a state may be younger in years than the junior senator.

MRS. LEROY BEERY was hostess to 12 members of the Ellsworth Road Club at a desert luncheon recently.

Mrs. Joseph Wagenhouse presided at the business session and welcomed Mrs. Lulu McConnor as a guest.

Games were enjoyed during the social time and the next meeting will be July 1 at 1 p. m. with Mrs. Bessie Campbell of the Ellsworth Road.

MRS. FLORENCE SOLOMON of Perry St. was honored at a family gathering in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ann Seroka of E. 6th St., Sunday on the occasion of her 75th birthday.

Among those attending the party were another daughter, Mrs. Greg Highison of Youngstown, and four sons, Steve, of Zelenople, Pa., John, of Tiffin, Earl, of Salem, and Nick of the home.

Places for 22 were set when a coverdinner was enjoyed at noon.

NEW OFFICERS will be installed when the Catholic Daughters of America meet Thursday at 7:50 p. m. at the Knights of Columbus hall. Those attending are reminded to bring cards or games to be sent veterans in government hospitals.

"WATERWAYS AND Flyways of the North," a film, was shown when members of the Salem Bird Study Club met recently at the Memorial Building with 20 in attendance.

Miss Eleanor McMurray read parts of the book, Wings at My Window (Govan).

Reports of the recent field trips were given by Mrs. Grace Drouhard, who told that 62 species of birds were identified on the May 17th trip, and William Baker told that 135 were checked on the Big Count Day, May 10. Those participating were Albert Hartley, Mrs. Drouhard, Mrs. Mary Foulkes, Mrs. Norma Kern and Mr. Baker.

The club will have an overnight field trip Saturday and Sunday to Hocking State Park,

9 From Area to Get Mt. Union Degrees Sunday

Nine students from the Salem area are candidates for their bachelor degrees at Mount Union College's 118th graduation ceremonies Sunday.

Candidates for the bachelor of science degree are Elizabeth West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron A. West of Damascus; Kay Kuhl, daughter of Mrs. R. D. Pearson of Newgarden Rd.; Karen Israel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex R. Israel of Damascus; and Robert Hinchliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hinchliffe of Washingtonville.

Candidates for the bachelor of arts degree are Lawrence Root, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Root, RD 1, and Lynn King, son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. King, RD 4. Also a candidate for the BA is Larry Shreve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Shreve of Damascus.

Candidates for the bachelor of science in elementary education are Wayne Denny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Denny of Beloit, and Donna Denny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay E. Denny, RD 2, Salem.

Baccalaureate services are at 11 a. m. Sunday and commencement exercises are at 3 p. m., both in Memorial Hall. The commencement speaker is Dr. Charles R. Keller, director of the John Hay Fellows Program, who will deliver "A Talk for the Right Hand."

Honorary degrees will be awarded Dr. Keller (Doctor of Letters), and Dr. Michael L. Furelow (Doctor of Science) a 1929 Mount Union graduate, who is a professor of epidemiology in the department of community medicine at the University of Kentucky.

and other field trips have been scheduled for July 12 at the Batzli farm and Aug. 16 at Meander reservoir.

The club will recess for the summer with the next meeting scheduled for Sept. 11.

THE DISTRICT PAST Noble Grands of Home Rebekah Lodge met for a coverdinner recently at the Rebekah hall in Leetonia.

Mrs. Irene Hum presided and it was decided that cancer pads will be made for the Odd Fellows Home at Springfield at future meetings. Mrs. Jennie Elliott will be chairman of the project, assisted by Mrs. Loretta Klitz, Mrs. Martha Whitcomb, Mrs. Anna Young, Mrs. Patricia Post and Mrs. Laura Hadley.

The next meeting of the club will be July 29 at 10:30 a. m. at Alliance with a coverdinner at noon. Those attending are requested to bring old newspapers, plastic bags, discarded sheets and sewing accessories.

JOHN PAXSON, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Paxson of W. 9th St., a graduate of Salem Senior High School, was honored at an open house Thursday night following commencement exercises by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Aiken at their home on Homewood Ave.

School colors were used in decorations and the buffet refreshment table was laid with white lace over a red cloth and centered with an arrangement of red and white carnations in an antique crystal dish belonging to the honorees grandmother.

Mr. Paxson plans to enter Youngstown School of Technology in the fall.

MR AND MRS. Edward Cable of RD 2, Salem, celebrated their 13th wedding anniversary Tuesday with a small family gathering.

ELEVEN MEMBERS of the Salem United Commercial Travelers will attend the annual grand UCT convention from Thursday to Saturday at Cincinnati.

Attending will be Galen Greenstein, James Johnson, Aubrey Cain, Charles Vincent, Fred Bowen, Donald Sanor, Paul Brooks, Ray Greenstein, Louis Moushey, William Schaefer and Rex Hundermarck, who serves on the grand executive committee.

Choir Parents At Senior High Name Officers For Term

Mrs. William Tomkinson was elected president of the Senior High Choir Parents Club when that group met recently in the music room of the high school.

Serving as vice president for the coming year will be Mrs. Carl Lindner; secretary, Mrs. John Fittian; and treasurer for her second term, Mrs. Homer Taylor. Mrs. Calvin Filler, Mrs. Gene Mark and Mrs. Tony Sheen comprised the nominating committee.

Out-going president, Mrs. Hugh Kells, presided and Mrs. Taylor reported that over $2,300 had been spent by the club this year for concert expenses, bus transportation to contests, and the choir banquet.

F. Edwin Miller, senior high school, vocal instructor, informed the club of the recent developments toward utilization of the existing choir room in the next scholastic year and stressed the importance of maintaining adequate conditions which are now available in order to develop proper choral harmony.

The new officers will take charge when the club reconvenes in September.

Mrs. Clarence E. Schwartz

Eyster-Schwartz Nuptials Held In Methodist Church

Delaware will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Edward Schwartz whose wedding was an event of May 16 in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Schwartz is the former Sandra Kay Eyster, daughter of Mrs. Kendall Ingram of Jennings Ave., and Harry Eyster of E. Pershing St., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schwartz of Henderson, Ky., are parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. William Longworth was assisted by Rev. Weaver, pastor of the North Broadway Methodist Church at Columbus, at the 2:30 p. m. double ring ceremony.

Homer Taylor presided at the organ and Tom Williams was soloist.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, Kendall Ingram, the bride wore a floor-length white silk organza over taffeta gown with lace applied bodice, scooped neck and short sleeves. The skirt was flared and softly gathered at the waist and adding distinction to the gown was a lace train bordered with organza which fell from the shoulders. A double crown of pearls held her elbow length veil of illusion and her flowers were white and yellow roses with stephanotis and violets.

Pam Smith of Akron was maid of honor and wore a full length dress of lavender organza over moire fashioned with long sleeves and full billowing skirt complemented with halo headpiece of violets and daisies and nosegay bouquet of violets and daisies.

Rebecca and Barbara Ingram, sisters of the bride, were junior bridesmaids in dresses matching that of the maid of honor. Cathy McElwain, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Robert Ritchie carried the rings.

John Ross of Delaware was best man. Ushering were Thomas Sagendorf and William Mate, both of Delaware.

Out of state guests from Kentucky, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Iowa and Japan attended the reception for 150 guests held in the fellowship hall of the church. Mrs. Edward Daugh-ty of Warren presided at the guest book.

A three tier cake centered the bride's table and serving were Mrs. Sagendorf, Mrs. Ross and Miss Mary Alice Detimore of Salem.

The couple honeymooned in Florida.

A registered nurse, the bride is a graduate of Akron General Hospital School of Nursing and Salem Senior High School. Her husband is a graduate of Kentucky Wesleyan at Owensboro, Ky., and is in his senior year at Methodist Theological School at Delaware.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hiner and children, Ricky, Valerie and Grant, of W. 8th St., accompanied by Miss Marjorie Hiner of Greenford, have returned from a three-week western trip to Rogers, Ark., and Tempe, Ariz., where they visited in the home of Mrs. Hiner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Crawford, former Salem residents. Mrs. Crawford joined them there and they continued on to Sunland, Calif.

Dr. and Mrs. Virgil C. Hart of 353 Rea Drive attended the graduation exercises at St. Johns College in Cleveland Saturday where their daughter Sister M. Dermott of the Order of Holy Humility of Mary, received her bachelor of science degree in education.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Hiegel of the Ellsworth Road, accompanied by their son Joseph Jr. of Dayton, attended commencement exercises at St. Francis College, Loretto, Pa., where their daughter, Kathleen Marie Hiegel, received her bachelor of science degree in mathematics from the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Willman of Jacksonville, Alabama, formerly of Salem, have been visiting friends here, en route to Canada for a vacation.

Norma Hartsough Wed To Lawrence Sommers

Miss Norma Kay Hartsough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hartsough of RD 2, Salem, and Lawrence Sommers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sommers of RD 2, Salem, were married May 31 in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church.

Miss Carol Murphy presided at the organ console and soloist was Howard Sommers, brother of the bridegroom. Rev. Ray Hunter officiated at the 3 p. m. double ring exchange of vows at an altar decorated with vases of white gladioli, snapdragons and shasta daisies.

Given in marriage by her parents the bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie taffeta styled with empire waist with back bow detail and chapel length train. A circlet of white flowers and seed pearls held her fingertip veil and white roses with gardenias comprised her cascade bouquet. Her single strand of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Bonnie Ossman who wore a waltz dress of pastel green with white lace overskirt and jacket. Her headpiece was a white velvet bow trimmed with green veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Miss Betty Sommers, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Patricia Callahan were bridesmaids in ensembles like that of Mrs. Ossman.

William Sommers served his brother as best man. Robert Turner and Wayne Walton ushered.

Mrs. Hartsough wore a pastel blue summer suit for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Sommers a jacketed brown dress. Both had corsages of pink roses and carnations.

Reception Is Held Miss Carol Zapernick registered the 150 guests who attended the reception in the church fellowship hall. Out of state guests were from Pennsylvania and Michigan.

Yellow mums, roses and ivy encircled the base of the four tier cake trimmed with white and yellow roses with miniature bride and bridegroom on top. The cake was baked by Mrs. Ronald Hofmeister, sister of the bride. Serving were Mrs. Clyde Zepernick, Mrs. Burdette Solomon and Mrs. Hofmeister, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Alfred Tait of Canton, aunt of the bride.

Following the reception the couple left for a honeymoon to Niagara Falls and the Worlds Fair in New York. For her trip the bride wore a navy blue suit and gardenia corsage.

Gifts were presented their attendants by the bridal pair at the rehearsal party the evening prior to the wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sommers.

The bride is employed as bookkeeper by Sears, Roebuck and Co. and the bridegroom is golf pro at the Salem Golf Club.

W. Virginia Club Plans Annual Picnic

The West Virginia Club will hold its seventh annual picnic at Centennial Park Sunday with activities scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. with registration and horse-shoe pitching.

At 11 a. m., services will be held with Lee Webb and the West Virginia Boys participating and invocation by Harry Webb, president of the club. Guest speaker will be Rev. Herbert Webb of Milstone, W. Va.

Adult games, including a rolling pin throw, mate calling contest, shoe scramble and ugly man contest, and teen-age games will be held, starting at 3.

Prizes will be given to the couple with the youngest baby present, couple married the shortest time, oldest West Virginian present and person coming the farthest distance to the picnic.

Other officers of the club are Ann Radcliff, secretary, and Ray Stalnaker, program chairman.

Carnival Co-Queens Named By Jaycees

Miss Juanita Siegel, 19, daughter of Mrs. Cora Siegel of 378 N. Madison Ave., and Miss Sherrill Hutson, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hutson of 193 Rose Ave., have been named "co-queens" of the Salem Jaycees Carnival being held this week.

They were chosen by a team of three judges, Mayor Dean Cranmer, Mrs. Letha Astry and Victor Ballenger, and will reign over the festivities nightly. The two received prizes from the Salem Merchants Association.

Leetonians Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Weikart

One hundred and thirty-five relatives and friends gathered Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don McCoy of Leetonia-Columbiana Rd. to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Weikart of 399 Pearl St.

Leora Thorpe and Warren Weikart were married at her home in Washingtonville, June 10, 1914, by Rev. Earl Lea of the Methodist Church. They have four other children, Dean of Bellefontaine, Mrs. Elwood Ziegler of Sandbank Rd., Martha Lee of the home and Joe Weikart of Walnut St. They also have nine grandchildren, who were all present for the celebration. Mr. Weikart has been in business in Leetonia for 52 years. In 1912, he opened a restaurant and later went into the grocery business, which he now operates at the same location. Guests attended from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Alliance, Sebring, Damascus, Salem, Youngstown, Tiffin, Bellefontaine, Fairfield, Leetonia and Columbiana. Wayne Weikart, son of Dean, home on furlough from the Air Force, recently stationed in Turkey, was also present.

Barbara Bauman's Engagement Is Told

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bauman, Jr. of County Line Rd. announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ellen, to Edward Donald Pfau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jared Pfau of 21 Union St., Columbiana.

Miss Bauman, an honor graduate of Columbiana High School, is teaching private flute and piano lessons. Her fiancé, a graduate of Salem School of Technology, is employed as a draftsman with the Electric Furnace Co. of Salem.

An open church wedding will be held at 7 p. m. Sept. 18 at Grace United Church of Christ.

The center diamond of EVERY Keepsake Engagement Ring is guaranteed PERFECT, or replacement assured.

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: I'm sure that by now a lot of brides are wondering what to do with the lovely bride and groom centerpiece from their wedding cake. Most of us want to keep them, but why wrap them in tissue paper and put them away?

Here is how I made a conversation piece out of my centerpiece. I purchased a three - quart apothecary jar at a gift shop. I put 1 1/2 cups of uncooked rice in the bottom of the jar. Then I put the decoration into the jar. I put the lid on and here it is, all protected from dirt — and it looks so pretty, too.

Mine has been in the jar for nine years. I have enjoyed it so much that I thought someone else might like to try this.

JAYNE TAILLARD.

DEAR HELOISE: I find that a discarded powder puff makes an excellent applicator for shoe polish. The powder puff is thick enough to keep your fingers clean.

I keep one for applying polish and one for shining and polishing my shoes.

MRS. L. A. C.

Dear Heloise: Have you ever had your rolling pin cover shrink? Well, mine did.

Then I hit upon the idea of using a old nylon stocking for a cover, and it works fine.

I knotted one end of the stocking below the top border and cut off the excess. I slipped the rolling pin inside and pulled the stocking very tight, then knotted the other end, (you can put a rubber band around the handle to hold it taut). Cut off the excess on this end, too.

It makes a satisfactory cover to which the dough does not stick. Try it.

GENEVIEVE GORDON.
It works! Beautifully. . .
Thanks, Genevieve.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LOVE

DEAR HELOISE: When I send my husband off to work each day with his lunch, I write an affectionate message on his paper napkin—a pleasant reminder to him that as busy as I am with our children, I have not forgotten for a moment that without his love and devotion for nearly 13 years I just couldn't exist.

MRS. GLORIA ZENON.
PS: Now the children want messages written on their lunch napkins.

G.Z.
DEAR HELOISE: A facial tissue dipped in milk, and rubbed over the leaves of houseplants will not only clean them, but will also add a soft gloss.

LILLIAN FRAHNER.

Agree or disagree? I have tried about forty different methods, and ended up with salad oil on all my philodendrons! Now what do I do? What's your suggestion? Please write in care of this paper. Lots of people have made this "oily" mistake.

HELOISE (one of the clan).

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who do lots of embroidering and want to take out the excess blue stamping marks:

I wet the cloth with water, rub it with a bar of napha soap and let it soak in cold water until the marks disappear. I find this works beautifully with only a little bit of scrubbing.

NETTIE.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever tried buttoning the bottom button on shirts or blouses before hanging them on the line to dry? I always do.

I find that the whole garment dries evenly and is less wrinkled.

Old Fashioned Bargain Day Committee Gathers on LS Range for Pony Selecting

Old Fashion Bargain Days June 18, 19, and 20, Thurs., Fri., Sat. will be more fun than ever this year for four lucky downtown Salem customers. The alert members of the OFBD committee (the four above who are wearing the derbies and handlebar mustaches) took time out to select four pony colts on the LS Range northwest of Salem. After long deliberation, the four merchants corralled the ponies and earmarked them for the prizes. It will be easy to win one of these ponies because everyone is eligible to win except employees of the participating stores. Just ask at any downtown store for a coupon to register your name. Register in any store as many times as you like and drop the coupon into a box. Coupons are now available at participating stores.

This is just one of the many interesting events you can expect to find during these three days. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of current and fashionable merchandise will be offered at good old fashioned prices of the gay nineties.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt suggested the original name of the "United Nations."

Ball to Warn Greeks on Cyprus Crisis

GENEVA (AP) — President Johnson has ordered Undersecretary of State George W. Ball to fly to Athens to warn the Greek government of the serious view the United States takes of the sharpening crisis over Cyprus, American officials said today.

Ball was to leave Geneva in an American military plane today.

He may go later to Ankara for talks with Turkish leaders. He was due back in Washington on Thursday to report to the President.

Ball has been in Geneva since Monday for the closing stage of the United Nations trade and development conference.

President Makarios of Cyprus, leader of the Greek Cypriots, called Tuesday night for an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council meeting to "denounce threats of the Turkish government to invade our island."

In a note to heads of state and government he charged that Turkey "has now amassed a great number of naval and air forces ready for immediate invasion of Cyprus."

He accused the Turks of repeatedly violating air space over Cyprus and dropping arms to Turkish Cypriots.

Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou, dispatched by Makarios to arrange for the council meeting, told newsmen he planned to see Council President Arsene Assouan of the Ivory Coast today.

Beaver Boosters Plan Activities

The Beaver Local Boosters Club Tuesday planned a rash of summertime and early fall events ranging from horse programs to odd-and-ends auctions, and agreed to sell its 11 - passenger limousine used to haul athletes. Twenty-five attended the session at the Public School where president James McLaughlin conducted business.

A horse-pulling contest was planned for July 4 at the high school followed by a horse show July 26 at the public school.

Mrs. George Gaydos, horse show chairman, said the pony to be given away has arrived.

New this year will be an auction at the Public School Aug. 8, with Paul Dailey and Leslie Jones as co-chairmen. Plans were also discussed for the 7th annual fall festival Sept. 23-26.

Gaydos said bids on the bus-limousine will be accepted until the next meeting June 23. It was bought by the organization to take athletes home after practices.

Mrs. McLaughlin reported the coin show last Sunday at the public school was highly successful.

back into the right lane too soon and hit the front end of the Canton vehicle. Both autos went off the left side of the highway and hit an embankment.

Mrs. Watson was cited for improper passing.

A Sebring youth was expected to be cited after he struck a Damascus parked car at Westville at 2:15 p.m. The Patrol said Gary E. Hoy, 21, of 324 W. Pennsylvania Ave., Sebring was headed east on Route 62 in his station wagon and turning south on County Rd. 404 when his vehicle went off the left side, hitting a car parked in the Jennings parking lot. The parked sedan is owned by Guy W. Sigle, 49, of Damascus.

Ronald Lee Davidson, 17, of RD 1, Negley escaped injury at 7:45 p.m. when his car hit an embankment after an unknown car went left of center on Route 170, about three miles south of East Palestine. To avoid a collision, the youth drove off the highway and into the dirt bank.

Bliss Appointments At Canton Are Made

Three new appointments have been announced by Frank Iaconetti, Canton division manager of the E. W. Bliss Co.

The appointments are Vincent Balunas, chief engineer; George Zentz, manufacturing engineering manager, and Walter Miksan, assembly superintendent.

SUBMITS LOW BID

Herman Brothers, Inc., of Youngstown were the apparent low bidders for the improvement of one and one-half miles of St. Clair Ave. in East Liverpool, Ohio Department of Highways' bid was $797,788 compared to the official estimate of $765,600.

Charlene Duriga Named Mahoning Dairy Princess

A petite, brunette Goshen Township "cow girl" who knows her way around the stables, was named Mahoning County dairy princess at Canfield Tuesday night.

Charlene Duriga, 18, who has been around dairy and beef cattle all her life, was selected the winner from a field of five contestants and will compete in the Ohio dairy princess contest at Columbus June 26-27.

Alternate, also from Goshen Township, is Jean Louise Baker. Members of Miss Duriga's court are Mary Lee Brungard of Springfield Township; Adeline Marie Thomas of Calla Rd., New Middletown; and Dolores Jean Zimmerman of Berlin Township.

Miss Duriga was selected winner at the Mahoning County Extension Office by three judges: Mrs. Elden Groves of Salem, Gordon Riehl of the Canton office of the Milk Producers Federation, and Robert Hammett of the Carbon Limestone Co., Canfield.

Miss Duriga, who is training to become an X-ray technician at Trumbull Memorial Hospital in Warren, graduated last year from West Branch High School. She has had seven years of 4-H club work including experience in dairy, beef, junior leadership and flower gardening. She has also won dairy showmanship awards and been a 4-H camp counselor.

She was reared on her father's dairy farm where Brown Swiss are favored. The 5'3", 120-pound lass was named "Ohio Brown Swiss Queen" in 1963.

The competition in Mahoning was sponsored by the Extension Dairy Committee, with Robert Wiley of Canfield, chairman. The larger contest is sponsored by the American Dairy Association.

Riots

shrugged off questions whether he would ask for federal protection.

He is an aide to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, who was scheduled to arrive here today.

Tuesday night's march started from St. Mary's Baptist church, a few blocks from the downtown area. The target, as in past marches, was the old slave market in the city park near the riverfront.

Nearly 300 demonstrators walked quietly downtown without incident. As they headed back toward the church they ran into trouble. White marchers were singled out.

A big white man, weighing about 230 pounds, pummeled the pavement the Rev. William England, 33, Boston University chaplain, who is white. The assailant then methodically kicked and stomped the chaplain, slumped with his hands over his head.

The thud of the kicks was punctuated with groans from the victim. A slender Negro boy about 12, threw his body over the chaplain.

Goldwater

open mind to anybody the party suggests to run with me," Goldwater said in Los Angeles the night he won the California primary.

Nevertheless, a top aide said Goldwater "contemplates handling this in the orthodox way. He will have a very strong nand in the selection of a running mate."

The aide pointed out that three of the four men Goldwater has mentioned privately are from states that rank among the most potent in the Electoral College: New York with 43 votes, Pennsylvania with 29 and Ohio with 26. Kentucky has 9.

Rhodes, 53, is a former Ohio state auditor who became governor in 1963, winning in his second bid for the office.

Seranton, 46, long rated a dark-horse contender for top spot on the ticket, served a term in the House before he became governor. The Pennsylvania leader was a World War II flier and still is a member of the Air Force Reserve unit Goldwater commands.

Morton is 57, and a former chairman of the Republican National Committee. He was elected to the House in 1946, served three terms, and was an assistant secretary of state from 1953 until 1956, the year he won his Senate seat.

Miller is retiring from Congress—and as Republican national chairman—after 14 years in the House. The 50-year-old party chairman also served as chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee. He plans to return to his law practice in northwestern New York State.

Midland, Pa., Woman Kills Four Children

MIDLAND, Pa. (AP) — A housewife, apparently distraught after a quarrel with her husband, shot and killed four of her five children today on the outskirts of this western Pennsylvania town, police reported.

The children, three boys and a girl ranging in age from 2 to 5, were each shot once through the heart as they lay in their beds in the basement of the family's partly constructed home in adjoining Ohioville Borough.

They were the children of Mitchell and Mary Zlatovich. He is the brother of the borough police chief, Bernie Zlatovich, who was the first to arrive at the scene just before dawn.

The chief said he was called by Mrs. Zlatovich, who is 24. Coroner John Colavincenzo said the woman told him she would have shot the baby also but ran out of cartridges for a .32 caliber pistol.

20 at Hearing on Railroad's Bid to Close Stations

Approximately 20 persons attended a hearing held by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in Lisbon Village Hall on the Erie - Lackawanna Railroad's proposal to close its freight stations at Canfield and Leetonia.

Eugene J. Nolan, Attorney examiner for the PUCO, conducted the meeting. A hearing on a move to close the Lisbon station has been continued.

J. P. Canny, of Cleveland, Atty. for the railroad, had as one of his witnesses, Eloyd J. Carter, assistant superintendent of the Erie - Lackawanna Railroad at Youngstown.

Carter testified on the railroad's losses as follows: 1960—$19,995,614; 1961—$26,485,759; 1962—$16,608,069; 1963—$17,115,271 and first half of 1964, $3,621,000.

The closing of the Canfield freight station will save the railroad approximately $7,000 per year, he said.

Fred Coop, Canfield village solicitor, represented Canfield. Leetonia was represented by Atty. Edward Grenamyer and Mayor Ralph Kennedy.

Fairfield Board Seeks Principal

Candidates for the post of principal of Fairfield School will be interviewed and plans for the proposed building program will be discussed at the regular meeting Thursday night of the Fairfield - Waterford District Board of Education.

Executive head Joseph Driscoll said six applications have been submitted for the principal's job, left open by the resignation of Alton Dobson, who has left for Springfield Local to be principal.

Dobson's resignation will be formally accepted.

The board is expected to certify information to the state tax department for permission to put a $350,000 bond issue on the November ballot. The sum is to be used for enlarging the Waterford building, improving the Fairfield and Waterford heating systems, and an addition to the cramped Crestview High industrial arts section.

Only 6 At Township Zoning Hearing

Only six persons, not including members of the Perry Township Zoning Board, attended a public hearing Tuesday night at the township hall on the Depot Road concerning three proposed changes to the zoning code.

Three of those present were owners of the properties which would be affected by the change. The properties are those on the southeast, northeast and northwest corners of the intersection of the Depot - Pidgeon Road intersection.

The property on the southwest corner recently was changed from R-1 to business by Per-property is owned by Robert Camp, operator of the Camp Service Co., an asphalt paving and excavating firm.

The zoning board is expected to give its recommendation on the proposed changes to the township trustees sometime in the near future.

Eleven regular bus drivers and one substitute were re-employed. They are Roger Greenamyer, Harold Stoffer, Kenneth Brunner, Edward Karlen, Robert Greenawalt, Robert Johnston, William O. Stanley, Bill Haupt, Wayne Harlan, Buddy Hoopes and Dale Barnett and sub John Townsend.

In line with a re-organization program at West Branch, a special board meeting will be held June 23 to consider the employment and wages of 14 custodians and 14 cooks whose contracts are up for renewal. Mrs. Emmons said decisions on these personnel must be made by July 1.

Also to be discussed at the special session is the matter of deduction of teachers' professional dues over a longer period rather than in a lump sum. The proposition by the West Branch Teachers Association was presented by letter at last night's meeting but was tabled until June 23. Ben Davis is new president.

Dues run about $30 a year and some teachers would like the deductions made piece-meal rather than as a yearly sum, claiming the single deduction is an economic hardship.

Principals' salaries are also expected to be set at the June 23 meeting.

The board was granted official approval from the State Board of Education to purchase three new 66-passenger buses. Contracts were awarded last night to Reichenbach Chevrolet of North Georgetown, which will supply two, and to Stratton Chevrolet, which will furnish the third.

The state will provide 64 per cent of the ceiling price of $7,150 per bus, Mrs. Emmons said.

The board authorized member Norman Barnett to obtain prices from three or four companies on the cost of installing "farm-style" outdoor lights around the high school to illuminate the presently dark area.

A letter from the Ohio School Board Association, of which West Branch is a member, was read by executive head Clinton Heacock, advising the board that resolutions forwarded to the OSBA for presentation to the state Legislature must be drafted.

Action was tabled on the matter of purchasing or renting transcribing machines for office practice. The machines have been rented up until now.

operations to reach Babb, near the Canadian border.

A road was opened south of Browning to the Two Medicine Creek, but washed-out bridges and roads still had the Birch Creek area isolated. It was the Swift Reservoir dam on Birch Creek that broke Monday, sending a 30-foot wall of water downstream.

This water surged into the Marias River. Other flooding creeks pushed the Teton River over its banks. Both rivers flow into the Missouri River near Loma, population 200, which was evacuated Tuesday night.

Drinking water, contaminated in numerous smaller communities, was safe in Great Falls.

in providing two-year terminal programs. Based on the number of doctor of philosophy degrees per unit of population, Ohio turns out only half as many as the per capita average in such Great Lakes states as Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

In engineering education, the Great Lakes area graduated 36,000, Dr. White said. Proportionate to population, Ohio should have turned out 1,800 but graduated only 1,300.

Dr. White believes the 10-month-old State Board of Regents, created to coordinate the total system of higher education in Ohio, will help remedy the education lag, bringing about better coordination.

One of the board's first duties, in which it is now engaged, is the development of a master plan for higher education, with the aid of a high-powered team of consultants laying the groundwork. "It's like an anthill of activity with KSU associates streaming in and out as they help in hammering out the master plan," the president said. The regents hope to have a tentative report by mid-November.

Dr. Whit explained that the Board of Regents has the role of making recommendations on the budgets of the six state universities, but does not create or implement the budget.

As large as loom the problems in Ohio, the educator said, it is not alone. "There is a reassessment of higher education in progress throughout the country," he declared. He predicted that many stereotypes, many traditions long held in institutions of higher learning will fall by the wayside.

A big handicap with which the Board of Regents had been burdened is the great backlog of problems that built up in the state and the lack of professional direction. Dr. White believes the latter flaw will be corrected now that Dr. J. D. Millet, president of Miami University has been named general executive director of the Board of Regents.

A dizzy buildup in college student population has been largely at the root of the dilemma in higher education. Quoting a 1955 Ohio State University survey and projection, Dr. White said the college enrollment in Ohio in 1957 will double the current number.

This year 213,000 young men and women jammed Buckeye campuses (although the forecast was for only 198,000). Using a conservative train of projection, the survey predicts 359,000 by 1970 and 435,000 by 1975. "Both these predictions are expected to be exceeded," Dr. White added.

KSU itself is bracing for all-out student onslaught. Dr. White said the applications for enrollment for next year were 70 per cent higher than last. "There's not a chance in the world we can handle half the number," he declared. Five thousand freshmen alone are anticipated. He believes the future state system will have to add greater variety of programs to handle those who want education beyond high school. Examples are increased emphasis on such institutions as KSU's 11 academic centers or other university branch units.

The speaker likened college enrollment today to a pyramid with a great volume of students coming in as freshmen and tapering off sharply at the senior and graduate levels. The pattern, he predicts, will be changing in a rectangular fashion with enrollments at the various levels more equalized.

Dr. White expects the quality of students to increase, a pattern begun five to eight years ago as institutions stiffened admittance requirements and high schools honed their top students to a sharp academic edge, bracing for this upgraded caliber of pupils "encouraging."

To further stress the burgeoning pupil explosion and financial problems, the president said the KSU administration was budgeted for a total enrollment of 13,125 but has 13,300 last year. Next year KSU is budgeted for 14,700 and "in five years 24,000 is possible."

Overpass to Open

the state and federal governments and the Pennsylvania Railroad shouldering the remainder of the cost.

Cost to the city will be approximately $65,894, the railroad will pay $130,000, the state will contribute $350,000 and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads $658,026.

The overpass job, a pet project of Mayor Dean Cranmer, originally met stiff opposition from property and business owners along the route as well as from some organizations.

On Oct. 10, 1962, the highways committee of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce and the Salem Area Industrial Development Corporation went on record as favoring the study of an alternate adjacent location "parallel and to the north side of W. State St."

The night before the joint meeting, SAIDC met at the Chamber of Commerce office and property owners along the route met at the Miller-Holzworth Co. plant office to study the possible effect on businesses in the area.

October 18 of the same year, another meeting was held at Miller-Holzworth office and city officials were charged with keeping the route of the project a secret until late in the planning stages. Mayor Cranmer later denied the charge, pointing out that several articles had appeared in The News, revealing details of the plan.

Hearing Held Oct. 19

On Oct. 19, William McKenna, then director of Division 11 of the State Highway Department at New Philadelphia, came to the city with other state officials and held a public hearing on the proposed overpass.

The hearing was scheduled to be held in Council's chambers at City Hall, but a large crowd showed up, forcing a change in location to the Memorial Building.

On Oct. 25, the city received a $45,000 federal loan for engineering and planning costs. If the project was not later approved, the loan would not have had to be repaid, but since it was, the cost was included in the total price of the project.

Not long after the loan was granted, Rackoff Associates of Columbus, an engineering firm, began sub-surface testing along the route.

A misunderstanding in the contract bids for the project made the Wander & Mason firm of Worthington the apparent low bidder. One day later, however, on Jan. 8, 1963, the contract was let to the A. P. O'Horo Co. of Youngstown.

Late in June of last year, the O'Horo Co. blocked off W. State St. to begin work. The firm reopened the street for the busy Fourth of July weekend (which it was not required to do) to alleviate a possible traffic problem.

Once the holiday weekend had passed, however, W. State St. was closed at Jennings and Sharp Aves. and was not reopened again.

The first work done on the project was the construction of two service roads parallel to State St. but behind the affected property owners' land. The roads are 20 - feet wide and made of concrete. Traffic which normally would flow over the blocked-off section of State St., was detoured on W. Pershing St.

After the service roads were nearly completed, sewer and water lines were relocated.

group of Republican senators, led by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, whose support was regarded as essential if cloture was to be obtained.

Hickenlooper, chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee, said after the amendments were acted on that he would vote for cloture. Not to do so, he said, would be "only a delaying tactic."

Nearly 500 amendments have been proposed in addition to a package of amendments which Democratic and Republican leaders have drafted as substitute for the House - passed measure.

Supporters of the civil rights measure won their biggest victories Tuesday in votes on the equal employment opportunity section, regarded as perhaps the most controversial part of the legislation.

By a vote of 64 to 33, the Senate defeated an amendment by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C. to strike out this section prohibiting discrimination in employment on account of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. It would apply to employers, labor unions and employment agencies.

Governors Conference Ends

Nixon Fails In Bid To Stop Goldwater

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The annual Governors Conference, which has had all the aspects of a miniature Republican convention, ends today with Sen. Barry Goldwater galloping almost unchallenged toward the GOP presidential nomination.

The 56th annual convention hasn't produced a moderate Republican opponent for the conservative senator from Arizona. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon tried hard to stir up a nomination fight that some of his critics thought was aimed at opening the way for Nixon himself to run against President Johnson as a compromise choice.

But none of the GOP governors who had claimed that Goldwater's views are not in the mainstream of Republican thinking wanted to take on the senator.

Latest to bow out was Gov. George Romney of Michigan. He announced through his press secretary Tuesday that he would not become an active candidate. Romney said he would accept a draft, but wouldn't go back on a 1962 commitment to Michigan voters not to seek national office this year.

This announcement came after Nixon said he had urged Romney to run, and Romney said he had been urged by some fellow governors to make the race and would consider it.

Earlier, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania retired from the field after former President Dwight D. Eisenhower put on a go-and-stop operation in his behalf. Eisenhower urged Scranton to make himself more available, then advised the governor not to join any cabal against Goldwater.

This left Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York as Goldwater's only avowed opponent. And it was evident that none of the other governors, nor Nixon, wanted to support him.

Nixon, who flew out of town after his strenuous efforts to launch a stop-Goldwater movement failed, warned party moderates that there is less than a 50-50 chance of preventing Goldwater's nomination.

He told a news conference in Baltimore that if Romney fails to actively seek the nomination it will go to Goldwater on the first ballot at the convention in San Francisco next month.

Nixon said both Rockefeller and Scranton are virtually out of the race and his own prospects are remote.

Nixon called his efforts to get a governor into the race an attempt to create a "third force" between Goldwater and Rockefeller. Asked if he wasn't trying to stop Goldwater after having assured the senator prior to the June 2 California primary that he wouldn't join in such a move, Nixon replied:

"Many Goldwater supporters would so construe it, I don't."

Nixon said he was trying to advance a candidate who would represent the principles of the party as they are thought of in the industrial states of Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and California.

Nixon said he plans to meet next week with Eisenhower. He said Eisenhower, who talked with Romney at the conference, has spoken highly of the Michigan governor.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Dental Care In Pregnancy

In a previous column we discussed the importance of maintaining good mouth health during pregnancy. Your first visit to the obstetrician should be followed by a visit to your dentist so that teeth and mouth may be examined and plans made for teeth cleaning and other necessary treatment.

Dr. Brandstadt

The nine months are divided into three equal parts. The middle three months are referred to as the middle trimester. Many obstetricians consider this middle trimester safest for dental treatment. Fillings may be placed and other minor procedures done.

PREGNANT women are usually excellent dental patients. One dental wag was overheard saying that pregnant women are such good patients they ought to be pregnant all the time. Particularly in the middle period they tend to be less apprehensive about dentistry.

However, it is felt by many physicians and dentists that excessive restorative dentistry, or periodontal gum surgery, or difficult or multiple extractions, should not be attempted at any time during the nine months unless the work cannot be postponed.

Local anesthesia (Xylocaine, Novocaine, etc.) may be used to prevent pain with the usual precautions exercised. Antibiotics may also be taken with the usual precautions.

That group of antibiotics known as the tetracyclines, when taken during pregnancy, have recently been reported to cause permanent discoloration of the teeth of the child. These drugs should be avoided unless no substitute for them can be safely used.

ROUTINE X-RAY examination is not recommended. This does not preclude the use of X-rays as an aid in diagnosis. When there is a suspicion that something is wrong in a tooth or jaw, an X-ray film may be necessary to confirm the diagnosis. The amount of direct or scatter radiation to which the patient is exposed is considered negligible with the use of modern X-ray machines.

One physician told me recently that if his wife needed dental X-rays during her pregnancy, he would "feel better" if she were draped with a leaded apron during the procedure. Some dentists do this. It must be noted, though, that there is no scientific evidence that the use of dental X-ray for diagnostic reasons is harmful.

Your dentist should make the decisions regarding the necessity for X-ray examination.

Salem Man Denied State Compensation

LISBON — A jury deliberated only 20 minutes Tuesday before returning a verdict for the defendants in the civil case of Donald F. Whitacre, 448 Perry St., Salem, against the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. of Salem and the State Bureau of Workmen's Compensation.

Whitacre was injured on Jan. 13, 1958, while working at the Mullins plant and in 1962 he filed a claim that his injury caused him to suffer tension headaches and a nervous condition. The jury decided that the headaches and tension were not related to his first injury and refused his request to participate in workmen's compensation.

Chisox Down Orioles 9-5, Pad Lead To 1 1/2 Games

A's Lose 2 To Senators

Tigers Romp 16-1; Bosox Whip Yanks

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don't feel sorry for J.C. Martin. Let Ray Katt, Gus Triandos, Joe Ginsberg and Charley Lau hand out the sympathy. They're the ones who know what it's like to try and catch the butterflies Hoyt Wilhelm throws.

Martin had one of those nightmarish evenings that all of Wilhelm's catchers experience now and then as the White Sox whipped the second-place Baltimore Orioles 9-5 Tuesday and extended their American League lead to 1 1/2 games.

Juan Pizarro was breezing to his seventh victory with a 6-1 lead through seven innings and Martin was taking it easy while Camilo Carreon handled the big mitt.

Three Oriole hits in the eighth brought Al Lopez out of the Sox dugout on the run and he called for Wilhelm. When the veteran reliever got the high sign, it meant Martin had to go to work too and that's when the trouble started.

One of Wilhelm's flutterballs got away and Sam Bowens, who was on third, started for the plate. Martin, who is used to this sort of thing, made a quick recovery and Bowens pulled up short. J.C. fired to third to try and get the runner but the ball sailed into left field and the runner scored.

Moments later another Wilhelm knuckler fluttered away and moved Norm Siebern to third. He later scored on Al Weis' throwing error.

In the ninth J.C. allowed two more pitches to get by, setting up the Orioles' final run. In case you haven't been counting, that's three passed balls and a throwing error in two innings of catching Wilhelm.

In other AL games Tuesday, Washington swept two games from Kansas City 8-4 and 5-1. Los Angeles stopped Cleveland 5-1, Boston whipped New York 5-2 and Detroit walloped Minnesota 16-1.

Martin once said Wilhelm's knuckler "dances like it was something bewitched," but all he has to do is catch it. Pity the poor guys who have to swing against it.

The aging knuckler lowered his earned-run average to 1.50 with his 14th save as the streaking Sox won their 11th game in the last 15.

Pizarro, who ran his record to 7-2, had the key hit for Chicago, a two-run single in the five-run White Sox' fourth.

Chuck Hinton slammed six hits in the doubleheader for the Senators and ran his average to .350. Buster Narum and Tom Cheney went the distance to gain the victories. It was Cheney's first triumph since July 4 of last year.

Chuck Cottier's three-run homer helped Narum overcome a shaky start in the opener and Mike Brumley's bases-loaded triple eased Cheney's way in the nightcap.

Fred Newman threw a six-hitter at the Indians and Bob Perry cracked his first home run as the Angels collected 13 hits.

Max Alvis homered for Cleveland's only run.

Dick Radatz saved Boston's victory for Earl Wilson as the Red Sox tagged Al Downing with his second loss. It was Radatz' 29th appearance and 17th in Boston's last 26 games.

Roger Maris and Bobby Richardson homered for the Yankees.

Don Demeter had three hits including two home runs for five RBI to pace Detroit's attack. Al Kaline also had three hits for the Tigers and raised his average to .298, a jump of .05 points in the last two weeks.

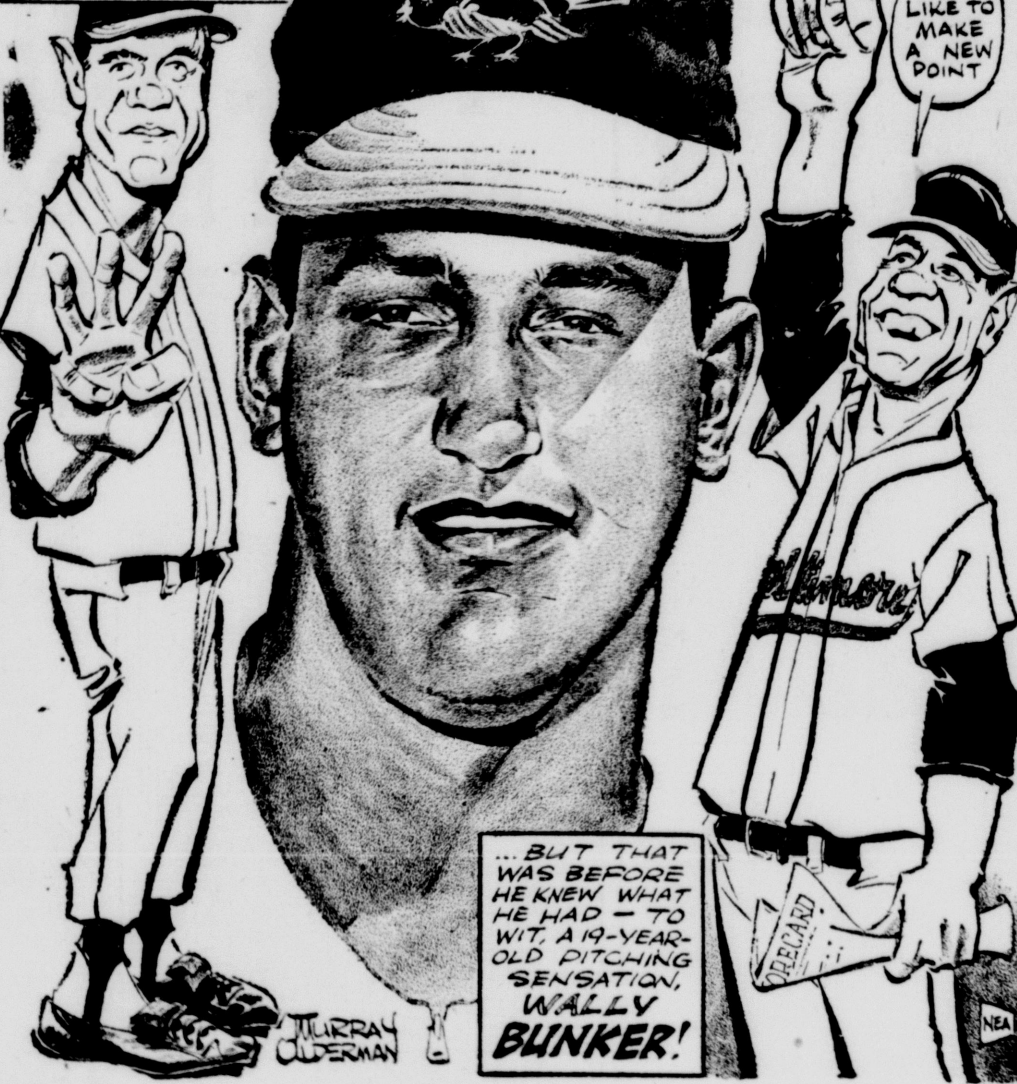

Bill Freehan also homered for Detroit and Harmon Killebrew tagged his 17th for the Twins.

Flying B, Corso's Lead Golf Races

Flying B golf team swept 12 points to blank its opponent and remain on top in the Thursday Division of the Flying B League.

Corso's took over first place in Friday's bracket, but Ruler's Construction, number one a week ago, trails only by 1 1/2 points.

Salem Tool climbed from fourth to the Duquesne for second place honors with 43 points in Thursday action.

Both units are 6 1/2 points behind Flying B. Zilavy Construction slipped from second to fourth place in the standings with 36 markers.

Homer Detwiler and Bill Youmans tied for low gross with $28. Dick Bosel had the low net 44-13-31.

The team with the least amount of strokes was Flying B with a combined total of 171. Duquesne had a 145 low net.

Superior Wallpaper, second in the Friday bracket last week, dropped to fifth behind third place Santini Builders and Penn Grill.

Powder Puff fired the low net 170, while Santini Builders came in with a 141 for low net.

Harry Hitchcock and Tom Grace carded 38s for individual low gross honors. Dave Edling chalked up a 43-12-31 for low net.

who has won a hundred tournaments but never the Open, will try for the 24th time when 50 of the world's best golfers tee off next week in the blue ribbon American championship at the Congressional Club in Washington, D.C.

Snead was among 94 who qualified in final 36-hole tests Tuesday at Detroit; Woodmere, N. Y.; Washington; Pittsburgh; and Fort Worth, completing the field for the championship proper June 18-20.

Others were less fortunate, including former winners Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Bolt and Lew Worsham and such well-known touring pros as Dave Marr, Bob Duden and Wes Ellis.

Sam, now 52 but still strong and active and a sentimental favorite every time he tees up the ball in the Open, made the grade easily at Detroit, where big George Bayer led a strong field of the tournament stars with a score of 68-70-138.

Snead's qualifying score was 71-73-144, five shots under the cutoff point for the 39 who made the grade at Detroit.

It was at Detroit that Bolt, the 1958 winner, shot a 77 for the first round, played 17 holes of the second and then left the course without taking off his spikes. Duden, the croquet-style putter from Portland, Ore., missed in a playoff of the 149 shooters.

Middlecoff, the golfing dentist who won the Open in 1949 and 1956, was a casualty at Woodmere, N.Y., where 36 qualifiers were led by the 230-pound Welshman, Dave Thomas.

Thomas shot the best 36 holes of the day with 68-67-135, leading such well-known players as Jay and Lionel Hebert, Doug Ford, Tommy Jacobs and Claude Harmon. Middlecoff missed at 148, as did Ellis, also.

Tag Days Scheduled For Junior Baseball

The Salem Junior Baseball Leagues will hold their annual tag days June 19 and 20. The downtown solicitation will be held Friday evening and all day Saturday.

A house-to-house canvass will be conducted June 20. It is planned to have an adult, preferably a parent, accompany each player as he solicits. Each player will solicit in his own neighborhood.

148, and Marr, the Masters runner-up, 147.

Other sectional leaders were Bill Garrett, 75-71-146, at Fort Worth; Tom Strange, 69-70-139 at Washington; and Chuck Scally, 69-70-139 at Pittsburgh. Worsham, who beat Snead in a playoff for the Open crown in 1947, missed out at Pittsburgh.

There are many who contend that Snead, despite his age, can still win the Open, and he'll probably never have a course more to his liking than Congressional, a layout built for the big hitter.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are the favorites there. They were exempt from qualifying, as was the defending champion, Julius Boros, and 19 others.

Fancy Feathers Club To Present Weekend Show

The Buckeye Fancy Feather Club will hold its tenth anniversary show Saturday and Sunday at the Canfield Fairgrounds. There will be over 1,000 birds and waterfowl on display at the two-day event.

Paul Stockman Jr. of Lisbon, show secretary, said there will be a state meet of the Old English Game Bantam Club of America with R. L. Plumley of East Liverpool, state representative in charge.

There also will be a national meet of the Hamburg Fanciers Breeders Association of which Mrs. Paul Stockman Jr. is secretary. This show is in honor of the ten senior members of the club—Carl Stockman, Lisbon; Raymond Ikert, Leetonia; Marshall Black, Alliance; Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Hall, Canfield; Miller McKinney, Petersburg; E. S. Porter, Alliance; Loyal Spang, Renfrew Pa.; James Welsh, Youngstown and H. V. Dingman, Burton.

The club's officers include Lawrence Haller, Poland, president; Gordon Gibson, Salem, vice-president, and Lawrence Beights, Youngstown, treasurer and show superintendent.

Plumley has handled the publicity for the club for the past two years. Mrs. Haller and Mrs. Plumley are co-chairman of the luncheon counter.

Over 300 trophies and prizes will be given out Sunday afternoon to the winners. The Little Theater Group of Lisbon will entertain at the banquet to be held at Dublin Grange Saturday night.

Card's Sadecki Hurls 1-0 Shutout At Giants; Pirates, Phils Split

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ray Sadecki certainly has matured quickly.

Two years ago he was being called a 10-year-old boy. Now Sadecki's 23—and the hottest pitcher on the St. Louis staff.

Sadecki gave still another indication of his transition Tuesday night, with a six-hit, 1-0 victory over Juan Marichal and the National League leading San Francisco Giants.

It was the first shutout of the season, and the sixth straight victory as a starter for the onetime bad boy of the Cardinal staff.

Two years and four days before he had stepped to the mound against Cincinnati and faced just five batters. When he trudged off the mound, he had been tagged for five runs on two homers, a single and two of his own errors.

St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane, flushed with anger, cited Sadecki for acting "like a 10-year-old boy" and said his performance was "the worst exhibition of effort I've ever seen on a major league diamond."

Sadecki countered: "I don't see how I can pitch anymore for a guy like this," and said he was quitting the team.

Cooler heads prevailed and Keane and Sadecki wound up shaking hands. Sadecki also wound up in the minors.

Last year Sadecki returned and was 10-10. Then he got off to a quick 0-3 start this season. But he hasn't lost since as a starter, his one defeat coming in a relief role. His latest victory snapped a four-game St. Louis losing streak and the Giants league lead to one game over Philadelphia.

The Phillies split, ending a four-game skid with a 4-3 first-game victory before Pittsburgh rookie Steve Blass stopped them 4-0 on four hits in the nightcap.

In the only other single game, Cincinnati edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1. Houston defeated Milwaukee 6- and 4-1 while the New York Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 12 innings before losing 5-2.

Marichal, now 8-2, had allowed only three hits when the Cardinals finally struck for the game's only run in the ninth. Curt Flood started things with a single, moved up on a sacrifice and raced home on a single by Charley James.

Marichal collected two of the Giants' hits, but muffed a sacrifice in the third inning that probably cost a run. With Gil Garrido on second, Marichal missed a bunt and Garrido was thrown out at third. Harvey Kuenn then singled.

The Phillies broke through in the first game when Richie Allen hit his 11th homer, the first for Philadelphia in 75 innings. Art Mahaffey, however, couldn't hold a 4-0 lead and needed Ed Roebuck's relief help after Jerry Lynch closed the gap with a three-run homer.

Blass pitched his first major league shutout in the nightcap, bringing his record to 3-2 with heavy hitting support by Lynch and Bob Bailey. Lynch smacked a key no-run double for the Pirates and Bailey connected for a homer.

Gordy Coleman's homer in the second—the only hit off Dodger starter Joe Moeller in seven innings—and Marty Keough's eighth-inning single produced the Reds' runs. Cincinnati starter Jim O'Toole allowed only two hits in seven innings but went out when Keough batted him against Sam Ellis.

Dick Farrell brought his record to 9-1 for the Colts with his sixth straight victory but needed Hal Woodeshicks ninth inning relief help. With one run in and two on, Woodeshicks got Joe Torre to hit into a double play, and struck out Ed Matthews.

Don Nottebart won his first game after seven losses with a five-hitter in the nightcap. Bob Aspromonte hit his second homer of the night in the eighth inning—only the second hit off Bob Sadowski—and started a the Colts.

The Mets won the opener against the Cubs when Jesse Gonder singled with the bases loaded in the 12th inning, capping a two-run rally. Larry Bearmarth pitched 7-13 innings of hitless relief ball and wound up the winner, with a six-hit, 10-inning performance.

Low Burdette, acquired from St. Louis, won his first start for the Cubs in the nightcap. The decisive run came across in the sixth on a double by Billy Williams and Ron Santo's single.

Indians, Angels Play Twin Bill Today

Newman Hurling Handcuffs Tribe Batters Again 5-1

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have lost only two of six games with the Los Angeles Angels this season, and both defeats were at the hands of a string-bencher pitcher named Fred Newman.

Newman shut the Indians out April 26, and Tuesday night he threw a six-hitter at them. The only run for the Tribe came on Max Alvis' homer in the second inning.

That gave Dick Donovan a one-run margin, but the veteran right hander couldn't hold it. The Angels jumped on him in the fourth, the first two men up getting hits. Then, with one out, former Tribesman Joe Adcock singled in a run.

Bob Rodgers knocked in another run with a double before Donovan was replaced by Jim Grant. One more run scored on a sacrifice fly before the Mudcat got out of trouble.

Lou Clinton's single with two on in the fifth scored another run, and Bob Perry rapped a homer over the left field fence in the eighth.

Newman scattered four hits over the first three and one-third inning, then settled down and retired 16 batters in a row. The 6-foot-3 Newman struck out only four men, but he had the Indians hitting into the dirt. He picked up his fourth victory against two defeats.

Early Wynn, the Indians' pitching coach, was taken to a hospital just before the game. Wynn had been throwing batting practice and suffered severe chest pains when he returned to the dugout. The trouble was diagnosed as torn rib cartilage.

Tommy John (2-3) and Pedro Ramos (3-4) were slated to pitch tonight's two-night doubleheader. Facing them will be Bob Belinsky (3-3) and Don Lee (3-1).

Detroit Gets Dischinger In Exchange

Bullets, Pistons Swap Cage Players

BALTIMORE (AP)—A monumental 5-for-3 trade with the Baltimore Bullets, involving such stars as Bailey Howell and Terry Dischinger, has given General Manager-Coach Charles Wolf of the Detroit Pistons a good start toward keeping a promise.

The promise, made at the end of last season, was that the Pistons would undergo at least a "60 per cent turnover" in personnel before they started a new National Basketball Association campaign. Besides Howell, greatest scorer in Piston history, Detroit gave up veterans Don Ohl and Bob Ferry and their No. 2 and 3 draft choices—6-foot-8 Les Hunter of Chicago Loyola and ball-handling whiz Wally Jones of Villanova.

Along with Dischinger, the 1963 NBA rookie of the year and a 20.8-points-per-game man last season, Baltimore dealt off rookies Rod Thorn and Don Kojis.

The Bullets finished fourth and the Pistons fifth in the league's Western half, but the management of both clubs contended Tuesday's deal, the biggest in NBA history, makes the future look rosy.

Bullet General Manager Paul Hoffman called Ohl, a good outside shot who averaged 17.3 last season, "probably the finest guard in the league" and noted that Howell has averaged between 17.8 and 23.4 over a five-year span during which he has totaled 8,182 points for a Piston career record.

Morenz, Hoppes Win Golf Club Tourney

Carl Morenz and Tim Hoppes took first place in the recent tourney held by the Salem Golf Club.

Tied for second place in the two-man event were Jim Milligan and Elliott Hansell, and Jack Harroff and Bob McCulloch.

Dick Lawrence and Troy Cope came in third. The tourney was cut short because of rain.

Columbiana Names Bellisari Grid Coach

Raymond Bellisari, an assistant coach at Louisville the past four years, has been named head football and assistant basketball coach for the 1964-65 school year at Columbiana High School.

The announcement of the appointment was made this morning by Columbiana Superintendent of Schools D. W. Bailey.

The new grid mentor replaces George Fisher, who has accepted a junior - senior high school principalship in the Plain Township Schools at New Albany, O.

Bellisari is a 1960 graduate of Wittenberg University. He played as a regular for the Tigers four years.

At Louisville, Bellisari was backfield coach for head mentor Gaylord "Hap" Lillick, and also was reserve basketball and head baseball coach.

Gold Bar 9-1 Victory

John Eckstein went on a batting rampage, clouting two home runs and a double to spark Gold Bar to a 9-1 victory over Willie's Bait Shop in City Softball League action at Kelley Field Tuesday night.

Salem Merchants scored six runs in the sixth and went on to knock off Fernengel's 10-7.

Gold Bar pitcher Jerry Bryson limited the losers to just three hits.

A key hit for Willie's was a double by Harry Paxton which scored Dave Ramsey, who had walked, with the losers' only run.

Ramon Oesch clouted a home run, Casey Lease hit a triple and Ken McLemore collected a double in the Merchants six run rally.

Ron Shaffer led Fernengel's with four hits, and Jonn DelFavro had three as the losers outthit the winners 10-8.

Bliss Roms 24-0 In Class E; Sekely's Wins 3rd Straight

With the biggest scoring output so far this season in Class E action, Bliss knocked off CIO 3362 24-0 at Centennial Park Tuesday.

Chuck Jackson came racing home with the winning run as Fisher's nipped Farmers Bank 6-5 in an extra inning contest, while Sekely rolled up its third straight with a 10-1 victory over Electric Furnace in Class F competition at Memorial Park.

Knights of Columbus scored early then coasted to a 13-4 triumph over Petrucci's at Centennial Park, and Ted Todd had a perfect day at the plate as Hunt's Independent Union clipped National Cleaners 11-3 in Class G.

Ron Libb scored the deciding run in the bottom of the seventh as Stark's Colonial Attic edged Dairy Isle 11-10 in Class H at Buckeye Field.

Bliss, which picked up its initial win of the campaign, broke the game wide open in the fourth inning with nine runs.

Jim Lantz collected five hits and scored three times to pace the winners, Harry Owen, who had a pair of doubles and two singles, also tallied three runs. Bob Wagner and Rick Hack-

Knights of Columbus scored early then coasted to a 13-4 triumph over Petrucci's at Centennial Park, and Ted Todd had a perfect day at the plate as Hunt's Independent Union clipped National Cleaners 11-3 in Class G.

Ron Libb scored the deciding run in the bottom of the seventh as Stark's Colonial Attic edged Dairy Isle 11-10 in Class H at Buckeye Field.

Bliss, which picked up its initial win of the campaign, broke the game wide open in the fourth inning with nine runs.

Jim Lantz collected five hits and scored three times to pace the winners, Harry Owen, who had a pair of doubles and two singles, also tallied three runs. Bob Wagner and Rick Hackett were the only batters to get hits for CIO 3372 (0-3).

Jackson's single, a fielder's choice and an error gave Fisher's (1-1) the margin of victory in the eighth.

Ben Albright, who hit a home run and single, paced Farmer's Bank (1-1).

Dick Walker socked a home run and a single for Fisher's. He also was the winning pitcher, striking out 11 and walking only one. Val Altomare, who came on in relief in the eighth, struck out the side.

Sekely got a two-hit pitching job from Mike Palmer, who struck out 10 and walked four. He also carried a big bat himself, socking a home run and triple.

The winners sewed up the game in the fourth frame with four runs. Key hits were a triple by Bob Bently and Palmer's home run.

Walt Hunston and Ken Kenst each tripled in the seventh for Electric Furnace's (0-2) only hits.

John Lantz allowed Petrucci's only two hits as Knights of Columbus picked up its fourth straight win. A two-run triple by Dan Russell sparked a three-run rally by the winners in the third.

The Knights iced the contest in the seventh with six runs. Lantz, Dan Palmer, Neil Walker and Jon Pakalski each hit singles in the big frame.

Tom Kornbau belted a triple and Kevin Rhodes a single in Petrucci's (1-4) four-run sixth inning.

Hunt's (3-2) iced its game in the second with five markers. Singles by Jeff Zimmerman, Chuck Leaf, Todd and Bob Heron paved the way for the runs.

National Cleaners (2-3) tallied three runs in the sixth. With the bases loaded, Fred Saftred socked a triple to drive in the runs.

Libb, who scored the winning run for Stark's, belted a double to drive in a marker in the first inning.

Dairy Isle (2-3) rallied for eight runs in the fifth and sixth frames. The losers outthit Starks 10-5.

Robin Bailey led the losers with a double and two singles.

Back to the Abacus, Men In New York's Shea Stadium a few nights ago, the San Francisco Giants and the New York Mets played 23 stupefying innings of baseball, much the way the young folks in the Twenties plodded numbly through the marathon dance craze. Then two nights later, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller went through the night, runless and scoreless, for the longest game of ballhothead since Woodrow Wilson eked out a victory over Charles Evans Hughes in 1916.

The only things that seemed perfectly clear early Wednesday morning were (1) that the Republican voters of California had just nominated the G.O.P. Presidential candidate of 1964, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania and (2) that the resident profile analysts of CBS News were in the embarrassing position of having said a bit too much a bit too soon.

The face of pollster Lou Harris, the fellow who wigwagged the flag over the target and announced a bullseye for Sen. Goldwater just 22 minutes after the polls closed, was a fascinating study through the long hours of the night. It wore a small congratulatory smile at 10:22 p. m. EDT. But by midnight, as the margin between the Goldwater and Rockefeller vote narrowed, there was something a bit furtive in Harris's eyes, along with the suggestion of a wince, like a fellow doing a headache commercial. He began to drop the word "if," which is no kind of language for an election analyst to use.

HARRY REASONER, who was positioned alongside Harris at a desk that seemed less and less a check-out counter (which it was, in effect, supposed to be) and more and more a roulette table (which it was not supposed to be), started out with the bland assurance of a collaborator. As the hours wore on, though, Reasoner would look rather coolly toward Harris and a viewer could almost hear the unspoken words: "I didn't say it, he said it."

What was a viewer to feel? Suspense, of course. The California primary of '64 was the most thrilling within memory, with the exception of the West Virginia primary of '60. (As the Mets and Lou Harris proved in their respective ways, the great American pastime is not baseball, it's politics.)

THERE WAS A BIT OF sadness, too, in CBS's jumping the gun, even though it was later — and somewhat shakily — vindicated. The network's news team is too sensible, knowledgeable, professional and distinguished to go in for a numbers game that's played every November by the I.B.M. RAMAC 1410s, the RCA 501s, and the Honeywell 400s. It is widely believed, in and out of the industry, that this year's Election Night coverage — and particularly the speed with which NBC, CBS or ABC claims victory for one candidate or the other — will once and for all define the prestige, power and fate of the news organizations of each network. NBC has been winning out in the ratings for years and CBS is breathing hard to reclaim its preeminence.

Each network has been beating the drum for its election-year reporters — Huntley, Brinkley, Cronkite, Smith, Morgan. Of them, only CBS News grabbed off a Gill Advertising Distinction Award for the headline it placed above a photograph of Walter Cronkite: "In the old days, they would have called him 'Scoop.'" Each network has been spending more, working harder, digging deeper to outstrip the next fellow in its election coverage.

THEN, SADLY, when the voting booths have closed, a great network will gamble the reputation of a Cronkite because it feels the pressure to declare a winner first. I don't think it is worth it. The fascinations and excitements of last Tuesday night were not to be found in the prognostications of Lou Harris — even if they were to prove themselves correct many, many suspenseful hours later — but upon the geographical trends of the voting as the results dribbled in. And we were much more interested in what the resident commentators, Eric Sevareid, Meade Alcorn and Theodore H. White, had to say. No gun-jumpers, they.

I hope the on-again, off-again accuracy of Tuesday night's mathematical play down the electronic computers a bit when election night itself comes around and plays up their real stars: the reporters and commentators.

Soviet Space Woman Gives Birth to 7-Pound Daughter

MOSCOW (AP) — The world's only space woman, Valentina Nikolayevna Tereshkova, gave birth to a daughter last Sunday, the Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

The baby's father is Soviet spaceman Andrian Nikolayev, who orbited the earth in August 1962, with Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich. Valentina orbited the earth in company with Valery Bykovsky in June 1963.

Both mother and daughter are well, Tass said.

Usually reliable sources said the baby weighed nearly 7 pounds.

Valentina and Nikolayev were married in Moscow last Nov. 3 and spent their honeymoon touring South Asian countries.

Although the baby is the first born to an astronaut couple, Gherman Titov was the first astronaut to become a father after orbiting the earth. His wife gave birth to a daughter, Tanya, last September.

Valentina, whose married name according to Russian custom is Nikolayevna-Tereshkova, is 27. Nikolayev is 34.

Three days ago the doctor for the Soviet astronauts, Dr. Evgeny Petrov, reported that Valentina was in the best of health. During her pregnancy she has been studying at the Military Aeronautic Engineering Academy and recently passed examinations in English and mathematics.

The astronauts were married in a televised white wedding at the flower-decked Palace of Marriages in Moscow. At the reception afterward, with Premier Khrushchev as host, the newlyweds were given a "symbolic present" by Soviet military leaders. It was a little doll — a girl.

Khrushchev said he was a sort of foster father to the young couple, both of whom lost their fathers during World War II.

"I didn't bring any baby bugs or pacifiers," he told them. "If you have a baby, the gifts won't fail to come."

All Soviet space pilots were on hand for the wedding, which got more public attention than any Russian marriage since Czar Nicholas II married Queen Victoria's granddaughter in 1893.

Elkton

By MRS. DELMAR HARROLD

Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson of Newark visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Woodburn and attended the graduation of Philip Johnson from Greenford High School. Philip is a former Elkton resident.

Forty persons attended family night at the Elkton Methodist Church. Rev. I. Melville Wohrley of the East Fairfield Methodist Church gave a talk on "Tibet." It was also honor night for seniors. James Evans, the lone senior church member to graduate this year, graduated from Beaver Local High School.

THE HARMON family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Harrold. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Grimes of Hohenwald, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burnett of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hiding, Mr. and Mrs. William Durret and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prall of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Sullivan and Mrs. Karolyn Briggs of Lisbon, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leipper of Leetonia and Billy Bailey of Columbiana.

The MYF of the Elkton Methodist Church has concluded its paper drive. William Rudibaugh hauled the paper to Toronto where the group received $125 for it. This will go into the summer camp fund. Mike Rudbaugh, Tom Sturgeon and Steve Harrold went to Toronto to help unload the paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Rourke of Plain City are the parents of a son, born Friday. Mr. and Mrs. O'Rourke were formerly residents of near here, when O'Rourke was a coach at Beaver Local High School.

MISS MARY JO STURGEON is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Sturgeon after finishing a year at American University at Washington, D.C. She will return to Washington Sunday where she will work for the telephone company.

Miss Lois Switzer attended the homecoming at the University of Wooster.

The Elkton Methodist Church will observe Children's Day Sunday.

Two Boys Penalized For Millport Burglary

LISBON — Two Salineville boys, aged 16 and 17, were penalized Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for the burglary of the C. N. Blake General Store in Millport June 2.

The youths were each fined $25 and ordered to make $25 restitution. They were placed on probation, and their driving permits were suspended for one year.

The youths stole merchandise worth $430, most of which was recovered.

DOWN on the FARM

Plan Farm Science Review
Most of the crops which Ohio State Farm Science Review visitors will see Sept. 30 - Oct. 3 are in the ground.
"We're right on schedule," says Dale Friday, Review manager, whose work load these days resembles that of many Ohio farmers trying to get 450 acres ready for the growing season. But unlike other farms, Friday's "place" in Northwest Franklin County, scene of Ohio's giant show of farm mechanization, technology, and research, contains hundreds of different crops, crop varieties, and hybrids. It includes 180 commercial corn hybrids, 16 alfalfa varieties, 15 grain sorghums, 14 forage sorghums, and 14 sudan grass varieties.

Two hundred acres of corn and 100 acres of soybeans will be harvested during the Review by some of the most modern farm equipment made.

While the over-all layout of the grounds is similar to that of last year, some innovations planned after last year's event are beginning to show. An expanded forage program has added new seedings of alfalfa, alfalfa and red clover, and adapted grasses. Three hundred new shrubs are going in along the south side of the grounds where visitors last year saw evergreens, dwarf fruit trees, and unusual crops. Twenty-four trees are being added to the Christmas tree planting and the unusual crops garden is much bigger than in 1963.

This year the garden will contain nearly 100 different crops or crop varieties. Among them will be dwarf corn, Missouri pipe corn, strawberry popcorn, broom corn, sugar cane, rice, cotton, peanuts, lentils, mungbeans, flax, buckwheat, tobacco, sunflowers, safflower, sesame, guar, peppermint, and spearmint.

About 30 acres near the center of the site are being reserved again for exhibits of farm equipment, tractors, building materials, farm chemicals, seeds, livestock equipment, fertilizers, and dozens of other items used on the farm.

The review is sponsored by Ohio State University, Ohio Cooperative Extension Service, Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, and the Ohio Expositions Commission.

News of the World in Pictures

IN GOOD COMPANY—A line of buglers from the 3rd Green Jackets Rifle Brigade parades across parade ground on the embattled island of Cyprus.

SMOKED PELICANS—Streams of exhaust form patterns in sky as Red Pelicans of the Royal Air Force do aerial tricks over Rissington, England.

A FUNNY CAPER—Mexican comedian Cantinflas gazes from behind barrier (top) in Lima, Peru, at bullfight. Later, he jumped into the ring himself (bottom) for a scene for a film. He seized the animal's tail and danced a brief rumba with him.

SCHOOL'S OUTSIDE

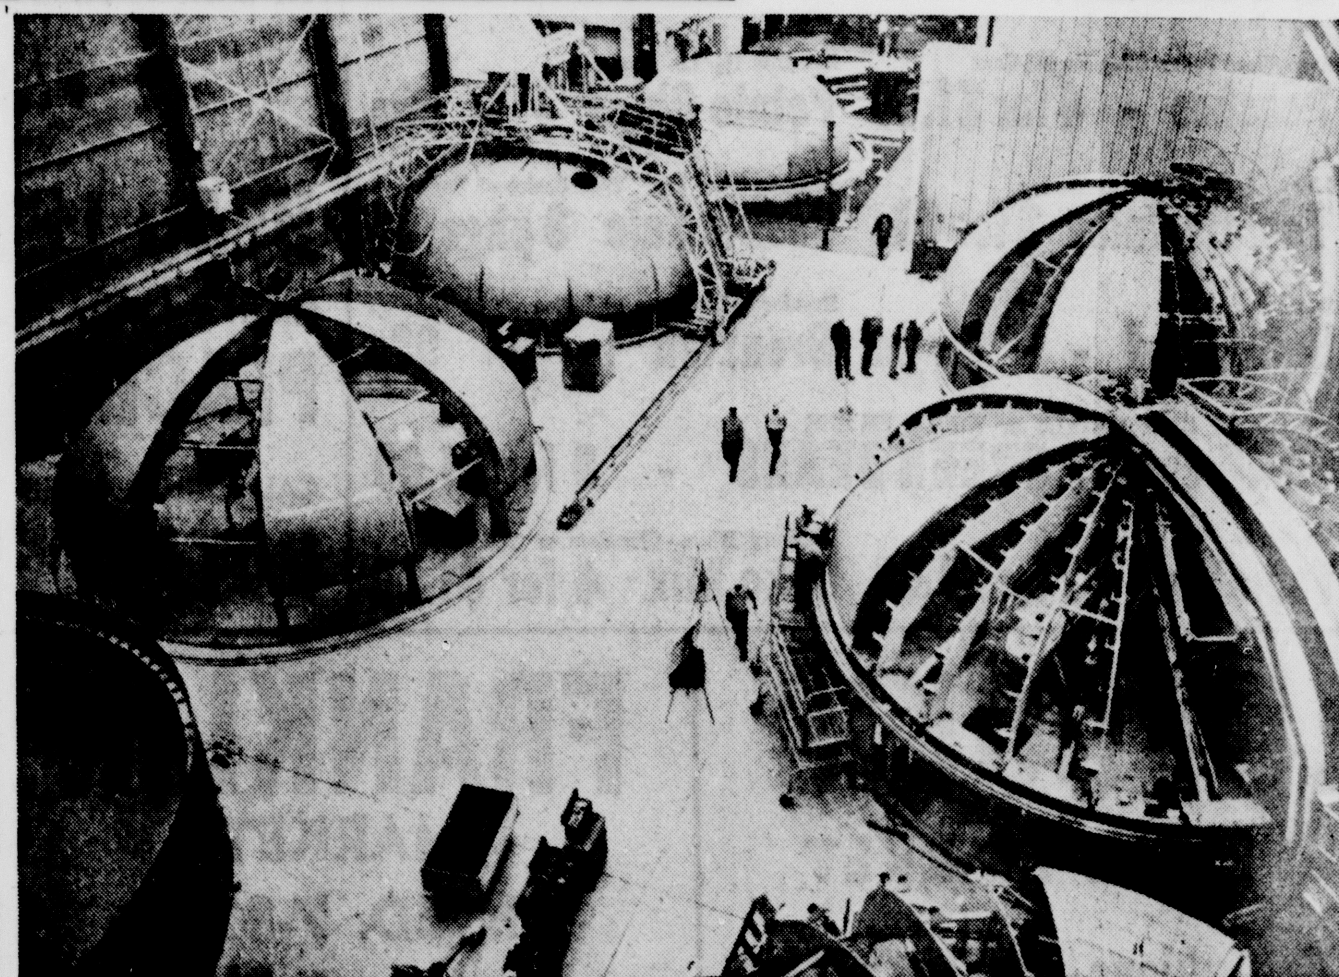

IT'S THAT TIME of year when school-age American youngsters forget about books and "teacher's dirty looks" to enjoy romping in the woods or somewhere out of earshot of parents. Not all are vacationing, however. A growing number are enrolled in summer schools.

SALUTE TO BEAUTY—Chosen from the beauties who gather at the Cannes, France, Film Festival, Yolande Arden, a Paris student, won the crown.

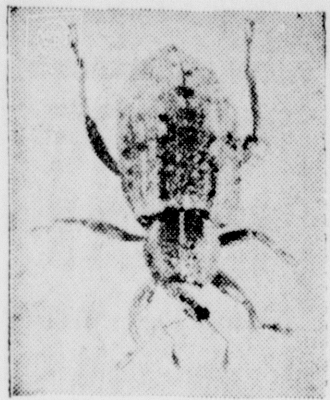

CAIRO "UNDER GLASS"—Mrs. Nina Khrushchev, wife of Soviet premier, studies Cairo through telescopic viewer.

BEANIE CAPS FOR GIANTS?—No, domes are propellant bulkheads for the Apollo rocket in Downey, Calif., plant. The bulkheads are partitions that bottle up and separate space propellants that will power the launch vehicle.

King Features Syndicate.

PEST TRIUMPHS — Alfalfa weevil, above, new in Illinois this year, has spread to 10 of the state's southern counties. Infestation is extremely difficult to fight.

Damascus Social

By MRS. WILLIAM K. TALBOTT

Members of the Youth Fellowship of the Damascus Friends Church who graduated from West Branch High School were honored at a banquet in the fellowship room of the church. The honorees are Nancy Ellyson, David Denny and Robert Bell, Jr.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Filp, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cobbs and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cobbs, parents. Decorations depicted "Paris in Spring."

Devotions were conducted by Wendell Santee. Tim Filp was toastmaster. A poem, "Our Graduates," written by Mrs. Maggie Cosand, was read by Mrs. Edward Escolme. "Laughs" were presented by Mrs. Wendell Santee. Games were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cobbs and Mrs. Kenneth Cobbs. A movie, "Teen Age Rocks," was shown.

MRS. FRED PERKINS received members of the SOS Club with Mrs. Harold Wulf, a guest. Duplicate Bridge was the pastime with prizes awarded to Mrs. Frederick Lane and Mrs. Perkins. Lunch was served by the hostess. Next meeting will be July 1 with Miss Pearl Yates.

Mrs. Paul Weir of Cuyahoga Falls and Mrs. Robert Gang of Alliance were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chambers.

Mrs. Atlee Swartz, in company with Mrs. Clyde Henderson of Winona, attended Howland High School commencement in Warren.

Mrs. Henry Thomas of Alliance called on her sister-in-law, Mrs. Marguerite Borton. MORE

GIRL SCOUTS and Brownie Scouts of this area were entertained at a wiener roast and picnic at the Community Center by the troop committee and leaders.

Charting Our Progress

EXTENDED CREDIT — The American economy continues to expand without downturn. Consumer installment credit rose $579 million in February this year. Not only did the credit rate rise, but also the new credit extensions amounting to $5,421,000,000 in the same month. This rise mirrors gains in credit sales on "time purchases," such as homes and autos. Single-payment loans, or noninstallment credit such as charge accounts, rose $146 million.

STILL BUILDING — For the first part of 1964, the amount of new construction in the United States is basically on the up-grade. This applies on private residential, as well as the industrial, commercial, farm and public fronts.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: So now I'm a prostitute. According to you, that is. In a recent column you said, "When sex is used by a wife as payment for favors and is withheld as punishment, it places the marriage at the level of prostitution."

Well, what else can a woman do when sex is the only effective weapon she has? I've been married to this character for 18 years and it's the only approach that works.

My husband is a professional man with an income that exceeds $40,000 a year. Almost every woman I know gets an allowance from her husband. But not me. My husband doesn't believe a wife needs an allowance. He says, "What for? You're home all day."

The only way I can get any money out of him is to nail him when he's in an amorous mood. It isn't quite as commercial as it sounds, Ann, but that's about the size of it.

Now, do you blame me?—
THE PROFESSIONAL AMATEUR.

Dear Amateur: If this has been going on for 18 years, you aren't going to change it. A man with your husband's twisted concept of married love is not about to be re-trained.

A bouquet of skunk cabbage to you to such a level. And my deepest sympathy to you.

and move into an apartment-hotel.

Since last August we have had uninvited guests almost continuously. We wanted to take a vacation in October but couldn't go because we had company.

Is there a way to protect ourselves against free-loading kin without creating hard feelings?—TRAPPED.

Dear Trapped: Probably not, so go ahead and create some hard feelings. You will have lost nothing of value if these people cross you off their travel maps.

Floored by Kids

Dear Ann: My husband and I are friendly with a nice couple who come to our home every other week to play cards. They have two sons who are the same ages as our boys, so we take our children when we go to their home, and they bring their children when they come to us.

We know that normal boys are bubbling over with energy and we don't expect them to be angels but we do insist that our children respect other people's property. These friends let their boys wear cowboy boots which have cleats on the bottom and they have just about wrecked our floors. Our own sons wear tennis shoes in the house.

Next month we are having our floors redone. I dread to think of what those two kids will do to the new floor. Do I dare say anything to the parents? You once said in your column, "Floors are to walk on," when someone wrote about the effects of high heels on vinyl—UN. DECIDED.

Dear Un: Floors ARE to walk on, Lady, but cleats on cowboy boots are not normal-in-the-house footwear. If you allow those kids to ruin your new floors with their cleats you've got oatmeal where your brains belong.

Ask them to leave their boots by the front door and offer your sons' spare tennis shoes or suggest they run around in their socks.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ROYAL PLEASURE—Queen Elizabeth II registers delight while watching a polo match at Smith's Lawn, near Windsor, England, in which Prince Philip scored three goals to bring his team a 6-4 win.

Weary of Wanderers

Dear Ann: Will you please tell retired relatives to stay home?

Our third daughter was married last year and we converted her room to a library—but there still are two empty bedrooms. We'd like to keep them intact for our children and their families when they come to visit, but if this parade of retired aunts and uncles doesn't stop, we're going to sell our home
